

DEDICATE NEW BRIDGE OVER "BIG MUDDY"

Parade Through Streets of Bismarck Precedes Formal Dedication at River

OLD WEST IN REVIEW

Parade Includes Many Beautiful Floats, Contrasting Past with Present

PAGEANT DIRECTIONS.

Should rain unexpectedly delay the pageant the celebration will be moved ahead one day, the pageant to be given in Bismarck tomorrow night and in Mandan the two following nights. Otherwise the pageant is given tonight at 7:45 p. m. at the Country club grounds, Bismarck; at 7:30 p. m. at the Fair Grounds, Mandan, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. At Bismarck grounds tonight the following auto rules obtain: Entrance to be made at only one point, that being the road running straight east from the Country club; entrance at turn of road; autos to be parked east of road, running north and southeast of Country club. No autos allowed in grounds except pioneers with special permits. Those attending the pageant should provide themselves with blankets or cushions, the seats being on the ground.

The Old West passed in review before citizens of the New West today to view the parade which preceded the formal dedication of the North Dakota Liberty Memorial bridge. Pioneers who helped make the history of the region, others in uniforms of the soldiers of '64 and '76, the old Deadwood stage coach, Indians on horse-back with war paint, Scouts of the days of Indian wars—all these were represented in the half-mile long parade which wound the business streets of the city through its course.

The new bridge, removing the last barrier to a new mode of transportation through western North Dakota and a link in a trans-continental highway, was formally dedicated about 1 p. m., with state officials and citizens of Mandan and Bismarck, and a score of towns in western North Dakota joining. Rivalries of the "Twin Cities of the Slope" were buried as mayors of the two cities met midway on the half-mile long bridge, and pledged united efforts to the further development of the great section of the western plains. A tribute to the basic industry of the region, agriculture, was paid when sheaves of oats were

DAUGHERTY HEARING IN DECEMBER

Washington, Sept. 18.—Hearings of the Keller impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty was postponed today by the house judiciary committee until December. The motion to postpone was adopted by a strict party vote. Chairman Volstead announced that the case would be taken up immediately after congress reconvened for the short session. Announcement that Samuel Untermyer would represent him in impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty was made today by Representative Keller, Republican, Minnesota.

Seamen Demand Eight Hour Shift

(By the Associated Press) Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 18.—Seamen on vessels of the Lake Carriers' Association on the Great Lakes will refuse to sail on any association vessel which does not establish the three watch system, or eight hour day on October 1, K. B. Nolan of Chicago, general secretary of the International Seamen's union notified E. J. Sullivan, local union agent, today.

FEAR STRIKE ON LAKES

(By the Associated Press) St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18.—A strike of seamen on the Great Lakes at this time would precipitate a crisis and would disarrange all plans so far agreed upon by fuel distributors, C. P. White, federal fuel distributor for the Northwest, said today. Plans are to move 1,000,000 tons of soft coal to Duluth, Superior and Michigan points every week, and if the strike is effective this movement would be materially hampered. Mr. White said if the strike should continue until the last of November, it virtually means the abolishment of shipping on the lake.

REV. CARLSON NEW MODERATOR

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Rev. Eric Carlson of Minneapolis was elected moderator of the Swedish Baptist church of North America, it was announced today at the general conference. He is pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church of Minneapolis.

N. P. DECLARES IT HAS SOLVED LABOR PROBLEM

Won't Accept Baltimore Plan and Claims Shops Are Efficient

BIG SYSTEMS SIGN UP

Hearing on Injunction Continuing and Must End Thursday or Will be Quashed

(Continued from Page 1) Chicago, Sept. 18.—With numerous railroads continuing to ignore the Baltimore settlement plan, several other roads, including a few big systems, today restored jobs under the Warfield-Jewell trust to shopmen who struck eighty days ago.

Some estimates placed the number of strikers taken back as high as 50,000 of the 300,000 shopmen who went on strike July 1.

Striking shopmen on the Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads, the principal Western roads involved in the partial settlement of the shopmen's strike, generally were returning to work today on those systems, officials said, without any trouble. A similar situation was reported on the Seaboard Air Line and some smaller Southeastern roads.

While these roads were continuing to stand by the so-called Baltimore agreement, the New York Central and Southern Railroads originally parties to the agreement, continued to stand aloof after demands by the strikers which the road officials were not covered by the agreement.

The Baltimore and Ohio, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, and Green Bay and Western were other roads whose employees were reported returning to work under the agreement.

Some Western and Eastern roads not involved in the settlement plan continued to remain outside the settlement, maintaining their shopmen were sufficiently manned. Many of them have organizations of their own employees with whom agreements have been or will be negotiated in individual settlements not based on the Baltimore agreement, which was ratified here last Wednesday by the general policy committee.

Trouble among employees of the Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul apparently had been adjusted today and the men generally were reported returning to work.

At Chicago and adjacent shops of the Chicago and Northwestern, virtually a normal force was at work today, it was said at the general manager's office.

Difficultly Disappearing R. C. Gaeth, system Federation chairman, said the difficulties in getting the men back to work on the Northwestern lines generally were disappearing. At Escanaba, Michigan, where shopmen had not gone to work, Gaeth said the men had been authorized to return to the shops at 10 a. m. today.

Similar conditions were reported on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, E. F. Greer, vice president, said men were returning to work all over the system. Virtually all strikers were back to work today, Mr. Greer said.

There were no new clashes between union and non-union men such as occurred at some of the Chicago shops of the Northwestern and the Milwaukee roads on Saturday.

Among the roads which accepted the Baltimore plan for settlement of the strike were the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; the Chicago and Northwestern; the Baltimore and Ohio; the Seaboard Air Line; The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha; and the Green Bay and Western. Many shopmen formerly employed were expected to be back with these roads today. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul had jobs for 12,000 and the Northwestern for 15,000.

Solve Problems Roads announcing they had solved their shop problems through employment of new men and former strikers previously taken back and organized into new shop unions, included the Chicago and Alton; the Illinois Central; Chicago Great Western; Northern Pacific and Union Pacific.

FRANK ROBERTS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HUNTING

Receives Eleven No. 4 Shot From Shotgun While Hunting Ducks in Kidder Co.

RUSHED TO BISMARCK

Believed Danger Will Not Result Unless Complications Should Develop

Frank Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberts, today is carrying 11 no. 4 shot in his body, received accidentally from the gun belonging to Major J. H. Hanley of Mandan, while they were hunting at Woodhouse pass, near Tuttle, in northwestern Kidder county. While the injury is painful it is not believed that it will result seriously unless lockjaw, blood poisoning or penetration of the intestines by the shot should develop. It is feared the accident may prevent the return of Franklin to his studies at the State Agricultural college at Fargo at the opening of the fall term and keep him from playing football.

The accident is the first reported since the opening of the chicken and duck shooting season Saturday morning, which sent hundreds of hunters into the fields in North Dakota.

Franklin and his father were probably 80 feet from the party of Major Hanley when the gun was discharged. It is said that the gun was lying on the ground at the time, was discharged by a wounded duck stepping against it. Franklin received the charge of the gun in his chest, stomach, thigh, knee and right hand and arm. Eleven penetrations were located by physicians. Immediately after the accident, which happened Saturday afternoon about 1 o'clock, the injured man was taken to Tuttle, but the physician at that place had just left and he was rushed to Bismarck in an automobile, a remarkably fast trip being made. Dr. M. W. Roan located 11 penetrations and treated him.

Just a moment before the gun was discharged Franklin was in a stooped position, and had he not changed the position he probably would have received the charge of the gun in his face.

Belief is expressed that the excellent physical condition of Mr. Roberts prevented the injury from being more serious and perhaps fatal. Mr. Roberts has devoted much time to amateur boxing and physicians say the strengthening of the abdominal muscles caused a resistance to the shot which may have saved penetration of the intestines. Anti-tetanus serum was injected.

Mr. Roberts did not go to a hospital and was able to be about yesterday, it being hoped that with continued exercise the shot will work out of the body. Some of the penetrations are one and a half to two inches. Mr. Roberts described the accident as feeling the same as if he had suddenly been hit with much force by pins of hot iron.

DEMOCRATIC FIGHT ON BILL IS DEFEATED

Seek to Have Measure Sent Back to Conference on Point of Order

Washington, Sept. 18.—The point of order made against the tariff conference report that the conferees exceeded their authority in proposing to give power to the president to declare American valuation on all items was overruled today by Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, president pro-tempore of the Senate.

The decision of the chair was sustained by the senate, 43 to 21, in an appeal by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, who made the point of order.

The decision of the chair was sustained by the senate, 43 to 21, in an appeal by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, who made the point of order against the tariff bill Saturday with a view to forcing it back to conference.

Will Investigate Marketing System (By the Associated Press) Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—To find out what happens to the farmers' products after they leave his hands, to get down to the bottom of this problem and discover how the farmer may help himself to get better returns from the fruit of his labor, is the chief aim and purpose of a new department, which is now being organized at the North Dakota Agricultural College it was announced today.

Dr. A. H. Benton, whose appointment to the office of professor of agricultural economics was recently announced will be in charge of the work.

RESCUERS BREAK THROUGH TO ARGONAUT MINE WORKINGS AND WILL REACH ENTOMBED MEN WHEN POSSIBLE TO CLEAR AWAY DEBRIS WHICH BLOCKS WAY TO THEM

ONE KILLED EIGHT HURT ON NEW COURSE

Kansas City's Speedway Dedicated Saturday with Many Accidents

(By the Associated Press) Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 18.—Reports from hospitals today indicated that three men, injured seriously yesterday in the dedication motor car race of Kansas City's new speedway, would recover. Roscoe Scales of Lafayette, Indiana, was killed when his car's steering knuckle broke and the machine plunged off the top of the speedway, bursting into flames after it had struck the ground, 25 feet below.

Eight men were injured in the series of accidents which occurred at the race. Christopher V. Pickup, Los Angeles, mechanic for Scales, Ed. Hoffmann, Chicago, mechanic for Eddie Hearn, and Harry Hennings of Independence, Missouri, mechanic for Pete De Paolo, suffered the most serious injuries. The less seriously injured included: Hearn, De Paolo, Joe Thomas and Jimmy Murphy.

The race was won by Tommy Milton of St. Paul, who covered the 300 miles in 2:46:52. Harry Hartz was second; Frank Elliott, third; Ralph Mulford, fourth, and Jerry Wonderlick, fifth.

Serve Governor And Board Members With Mandamus Writ

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 18.—Peremptory writ of Mandamus today was served on Governor McMaster and other members of the state rural credit board, commanding them to make and file with the governor an annual report of the transactions of the board.

The writ was issued by Samuel C. Polley, acting presiding judge of the state supreme court in conformity with the recent finding of the court in the case of Walter J. Flanagan vs. the members of the rural credit board.

POSTMASTER ROUTES FOUR BANK ROBBERS

Newburg, N. D., Sept. 18.—Four robbers, attempting to force an entrance to the State Bank of Newburg early yesterday morning were routed by two loads of buckshot fired by H. E. Martin, postmaster, who resides next door to the bank.

Mr. Martin heard the yelps when they attempted to blow open the vault door with nitro-glycerine and taking his shotgun, stepped to the door of his home and fired twice at the outer guard of the robbers, who were standing in front of that institution. It is believed that the man was wounded.

No loot was obtained, bank officials stated today. The yegmen rushed out of the bank and loading into their automobile, sped down the street, firing several shots at the spot where they believed Mr. Martin was, and also at a building where a light was burning. They started toward the South but it is believed that the men are members of the same gang which has been terrorizing border towns in Southern Saskatchewan.

Newburg is in Bottineau county of the Wheat Line railroad.

Crews of Men Hold Ventilating Doors to Prevent Resumption of Fires. Crew Wins $5,000 Reward.

SEARCH BEGINS. Jackson, Cal., Sept. 18.—Search for live men or dead bodies in the Argonaut mine had started shortly after 12 o'clock noon. It was announced at 10:30 o'clock in an official bulletin.

In the meantime the rescue workers will finish timbering up the top of the opening of the two mines.

The opening between the Kennedy and Argonaut mines has been timbered up and two men have gone through into the 4,200-foot level of the Argonaut at 11 a. m.

(By the Associated Press) Jackson, Cal., Sept. 18.—The opening connecting the Kennedy mine with the Argonaut workings where 47 men have been entombed 22 days, has been timbered to the full size necessary for the passage of the rescue crew, it was announced officially at 8:45 o'clock this morning.

The great force of the draft blowing from the Kennedy into the Argonaut, the rescue officials declared, crews of men were holding the ventilating doors on the 3,600-foot level of the Kennedy closed in order to prevent the draft from rekindling the fire in the Argonaut.

The absence of cave-ins would permit the rescue workers under Byron O. Pickard of the United States Bureau of Mines to enter the Argonaut as soon as the debris had been cleared away from the connecting cut.

As soon as the second, or "reserve" squads of rescue workers enter the Argonaut they will build bulkheads to check the draft from the Kennedy.

Formal announcement was made that the crew on the 3,600-foot level, all members of which are Argonaut miners, had won the $5,000 bonus offered by the mine officials to the first crew to break into the Argonaut.

The draft hole connecting the Kennedy and Argonaut mines was enlarged to 18 inches in diameter within an hour after it had been opened, it was announced officially.

Take Two Men.

The draft from the Kennedy into the Argonaut mine was so strong two men were required to keep each door closed in the 3,600-foot level of the Kennedy.

A hole has been drilled from the Kennedy mine to the Argonaut mine, where 47 men have been entombed for more than three weeks. The hole penetrated the Argonaut workings shortly after 5 a. m. It was expected several hours would elapse before rescuers could penetrate the Argonaut workings. Announcement that the hole had been drilled into the Argonaut workings was made by E. C. Hutchinson, president of the Kennedy mine and milling company, through whose workings the rescue work is being conducted. Hutchinson (Continued on Page 3).

STATE'S AUTO TOTAL GROWS

The number of automobiles owned in North Dakota will approach the 100,000 mark this year, and may exceed the figure, according to E. P. Carey, registrar. Registration has reached a total of 96,166, as compared to 92,644 last year, in spite of the general condition, which indicated earlier in the season that registrations for 1922 would not exceed 100,000.

Of the total number of cars registered 54,517 are Ford cars, and 41,651 of other makes. Registrations continue heavy during the summer months and automobile dealers report continued fall buying. Registrations during June were 1,160, July, 1,195, and August, 734.

100,000 MEN IDLE DUE TO COAL PRICES

Ford Motor Company Closes Down Until Fuel Supply Increases

(By the Associated Press) Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—Upwards of 100,000 persons today entered upon a period of idleness, and the Ford Motor Company plants were deserted except for caretakers, for the first time in months.

Henry Ford maintained his task was to obtain fuel at what he considered was a reasonable price.

No statement had been made by the manufacturer today as to probable duration of the suspension of work at his plant but Edsel B. Ford, president of the company, voiced the hope that a way out of the fuel difficulty might soon be found.

Whether the reported plan of the chamber of commerce of the United States for a nation wide cooperative agreement among manufacturers would aid the Ford company still was in doubt. As outlined here the plan is in agreement with Mr. Ford's stand in the coal situation, to the extent that it would provide against undue price inflation as well as for transportation to all industries, large and small, of enough fuel to keep them in operation.

EVELYN GEORGE IS WINNER IN QUEEN CONTEST

Remarkable Drive Is Made for Three Leading Candidates At Finish

Miss Evelyn George, candidate of the Elks and U. C. T., with 77,300 votes was the successful candidate for Queen of the Pageant Day exercises. She will be crowned at the pageant tonight, with pomp and ceremony.

Miss Christine Huber with a vote of 61,400 ran a close second and Miss Dorothy Skeels with a vote of 55,300 votes took third place.

The contest for pageant queen, waxed warm to the finish today at 12 o'clock noon. Excitement as to the outcome was intense up to the last when the ballot boxes were carried away on the stroke of the hour. The vote for the Queen is as follows:

Evelyn George (Elks-U. C. T.) 77,300
Christine Huber (A. O. U. W.-Yeomen-K. P.) 61,400
Dorothy Skeels (Rotary-Town-Criers) 55,300
Vivian Murphy (Knights of Columbus) 44,100
Dorothy Landers (Masons-I. O. O. F.) 16,400
Edna Patman (M. B. A.) 4,100

The committee declared the contest a success in every way. All of the leading candidates made remarkable increases in vote over Sunday. All of the candidates were involuntary candidates, being proposed by organizations.

COAL FOR NORTHWEST

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18.—Twenty-five cargoes of soft coal are enroute from Lake Erie points to Duluth and Superior docks, and are expected to arrive within two or three days, C. P. White, Federal Fuel Distributor for the Northwest, announced today. The total tonnage of these cargoes approximately 200,000 tons, and is the heaviest shipment this year.

HAIL LOSSES DROP 3,000

The total number of hail losses on file in the hail department of the Insurance Commissioners office, September 16, was 18,288. This is almost exactly three thousand less than the total of last year when the losses for the year totalled 21,080. Manager Martin Hagan expects that a few more claims will be filed on losses already incurred, but September 15th was the last date upon which a loss is a liability of the state department.

HALL'S DEATH WITH WOMAN IS MYSTERY

Minister of Fashionable Church Found Death With His Choir Leader

QUESTION WIFE TODAY

Investigation Centers Around Movements of Close Relations of Deceased

(By the Associated Press) New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 18.—The question of where the Rev. Edward H. Hall, rector of the fashionable church of St. John the Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. James Mills were slain, shared almost equally in interest with that of by whom they were slain as authorities of two counties began today their third day's inquiry into the mysterious double murder.

Detectors were not convinced that the rector and Mrs. Mills met death beneath the apple tree where the bodies were laid out as if for burial. Mills, the widower of the tragedy, Mrs. Hall, the widow, and her brother, Wm. Stevens, were the figures about which the investigation revolved.

All three were expected to be questioned today. Mrs. Hall for further details of her unexplained wanderings in the early hours of Friday morning, shortly after the murders are believed to have been committed; Mills for the story of his wanderings at the same hour, and Stevens for further light on his unexplained prediction on Friday morning that "something terrible is going to happen."

Enters Rectory Mrs. Hall admitted last night that she was the woman in the polo coat whom witnesses said of seeing enter the rectory about 2:45 o'clock on Friday morning. She was quoted as saying that she had gone to the church, accompanied by her brother, seeking her husband who had not come home the night before. Stevens refused to say whether he was with her. Witnesses did not see him return to the rectory.

Mills also has told the authorities of having visited the church in quest of his missing wife, at about the same time. Mrs. Hall said she was there. He regarded it as strange that he had not seen her nor Stevens but hazarded the opinion that they "might have visited different parts of the church."

Clothes Undisturbed The theory that the rector and his choir leader had been slain elsewhere and the bodies removed to Somerset county to complicate the investigation, was based chiefly on the fact that the bodies were found in the rectory. The other members of the committee are L. B. Hanna of Fargo, Walter Reed of Amenia, and John Lee Coulter of Fargo, president of the North Dakota Agricultural College.

The members of the committee will confer with the North Dakota members of congress, the congressional representatives of other states in the wheat growing region and federal authorities.

DICKINSON TO HAVE NEW STORE

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 18.—Dickinson is to have a music store. This week D. A. Cuthbert, who has been in the store room in the First National bank building, formerly occupied by the Stark County Chapter of the Red Cross, to P. L. Patterson, director of the municipal band, who plans to open the Dickinson Music Shop within the next week. Mr. Patterson will carry a full line of pianos, phonographs, band instruments and sheet music.

The Red Cross office on Thursday was moved to the rooms formerly occupied by Max Henrick on the second floor of the bank building where they will be maintained in the future with Miss Delia Spears in charge of social secretary.

SEEK REDUCTION OF OPERA HOUSES

Tokio.—A movement has been started by Kin-ichi Komura, of the Foreign office, Mr. Hideo Nagata and other people interested in the drama, for the reduction in hours required for the completion of each play on the stage in this country. In Japan a visit to a theatre, except the cinema, occupies more than eight hours which is too long for busy people of modern times. Application has been made to the metropolitan police bureau to reduce the hours to less than five hours.

LABOR MIGRATION TO CANADA

Porter, N. D.—Harvest and thrashing laborers from many states are arriving here daily and crossing the boundary line to work in Canada, according to R. J. Ransland, representative of the Saskatchewan bureau of labor. Regina, who is here checking and allotting harvesters.

Turkish National Army Reported to be Very Near Section About Dardanelles

(By the Associated Press) Constantinople, Sept. 18.—The entire British Atlantic fleet is being sent to reinforce the Mediterranean squadron for the protection of Constantinople and the Straits of Dardanelles.

This undoubtedly will create the most formidable armada of warships ever assembled in an area of like size, embracing the most modern dreadnaughts, battle cruisers, destroyers, submarines and air craft carriers. British officials here feel confident that if the allied land forces are not sufficient to check an attack on the Dardanelles by the Turkish Nationalist forces, the combined fleet, together with French and Italian war vessels will be more than adequate.

There is an increased feeling of security among the population of Constantinople as a result of Great Britain's energetic measure. The highest military authorities declare the Turks will not commit the folly of opposing such overwhelming forces.

PUT ON WAR BASIS

Paris, Sept. 18.—The British government has ordered all small arms and ammunition factories in the United Kingdom to work 24 hours at full capacity in preparation for any Turkish eventualities, according to news reaching private sources here today.

NESTOS GOES TO WASHINGTON

Wheat Price Committee to Have Meeting There

Governor R. A. Nestos will leave tonight for Washington where he will meet the other members of the North Dakota committee appointed at the recent wheat conference at Fargo to seek aid in Washington for added aid to foreign countries who desire to purchase the wheat for export. The other members of the committee are L. B. Hanna of Fargo, Walter Reed of Amenia, and John Lee Coulter of Fargo, president of the North Dakota Agricultural College.

The members of the committee will confer with the North Dakota members of congress, the congressional representatives of other states in the wheat growing region and federal authorities.

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

HARDING VETOES BONUS BILL

PAGEANT OF OLD AND NEW WEST PRODUCED BEFORE THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ON OUT-DOOR STAGE

Perfect Autumn Weather and Star-lit Sky Forms Picturesque Setting for Pageant

OLD TIME SCENES SCORE

Wild, Roarin' Bismarck of 1872 and Custer Scene Win Much Praise

PAGEANT CAST NOTICE

Bismarck members of pageant cast to be transported to Mandan for pageant tonight meet at Commercial club promptly at 6:30 p. m. at which time cars leave. Pageant starts promptly at 7:00 p. m. Mandan time. Bismarck members will be taken directly to Mandan fair grounds where they will be costumed. Transportation furnished all members.

All Bismarck people in Custer-quadrille scene especially urged to be on time. Because of splendid co-operation of Mandan members of cast it is urged by the committee that no Bismarck member of cast be late.

A dell nestling among hills just beyond the Country club and a star-lit canopy of sky formed a beautiful setting for the historical pageant presented last night by a cast of several hundred people, as a part of the celebration of the completion of the new bridge, the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Bismarck and the tribute to pioneers of the Old West. There were several thousand people in the audience which was grouped on the sloping hills to witness the event.

The celebration was transferred today to Mandan where the pageant, with special Mandan scenes, will be given tonight and tomorrow night. Threatening weather had changed during the day, and sunshine in the afternoon brought cheer to the visitors. The early part of the evening during the pageant was perfect fall weather, with a frosty tinge toward the end of the three-hour performance.

The out-door stage was lighted with huge search and spotlights, and the scenes were picturesque and fantastic as lights played upon the richly colored costumes of scores of dancers.

Bismarck "As Was"
The scene of wild, roarin' Bismarck in 1872, in which the adventurous and darker side of pioneer days was depicted, with its dance halls and murders, and the more pleasant features of old Bismarck with the Custer ball at old Fort Lincoln, won the most attention from the crowd.

An unusual feature of the Bismarck of 1872 scene was that several of the principal characters were pioneers who actually participated in the stirring days were in the pageant, men who aided in cleaning up the frontier town with the aid of soldiers from old Fort Lincoln. There was shown Mullen's and Tippi's saloon, a gambling place, and Wayne and Rollo's minstrels. Faro banks abounded and dance hall girls performed in their own jazz way of the day. One of the scenes was the rivalry of Rev. Mr. Lyon and Father Sloan. According to the story told of the days when the ministers entered the rambling hall to hold service, a sheet was placed over the bar, and gambling tables closed and the people listened respectfully. After the sermon was ended faro chips were given in the collection and cashed by the dealer.

The audience eagerly watched the many pioneers in the General Custer scene, the beautiful quadrille and the Virginia reel, and responded with loud applause. The scene was an officers' concert and ball at Fort A. Lincoln in 1874. Members of Company A, Bismarck, and young ladies of the city mingled with the many pioneer men and women in the quadrille scene, but none went through the steps more gracefully to the call of Rude's Patman than did those who actually had danced at old Fort Lincoln when the Army post was known as the most hospitable and aristocratic place of all.

Spirit of Dakota

The pageant opened with the prologue, in which appeared The Spirit of Dakota, represented by Mrs. Cora Strauss McLean, who delivered the prologue. A ballet of nature's gifts to North Dakota followed and the scene was shown the scene of the brave French voyageurs in 1738 invaded a wild country and made friends in an Indian village, after the white men had cowed the Indians by the display of the new and terrible weapon—the "fire-gun."

General Sully's battle of Killedeer mountain was enacted with rifles cracking, guns booming, the setting being a hill beyond the stage. The battle ended when the white men drove back the Indians and burned their teepees.

In addition it was announced that 4,000 extra Chautauque seats had been provided.

POLICE SAY THEY KNOW HALL SLAYER

Family to be Questioned Following Funeral of Choir Leader Today

ARRESTS ARE PREDICTED

No Powder Marks About Receptor's Wounds Indicate he Was Shot from Distance

(By the Associated Press)
New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 19.—All members of the families of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, the minister and choir leader whose bodies were found Saturday morning in an orchard near here were notified to appear for questioning at the district attorney's office today immediately after the funeral of Mrs. Mills.

All of last night investigators questioned two persons. It was learned that one of them was William Stevens, the dead minister's brother-in-law.

Prosecutor John Toolan announced that "before the day is over, a man will be arrested on a short affidavit charging suspicion of murder."

Another bit of evidence was placed in the hands of the detectives by George Deimler. It was a woman's handkerchief, pierced by three holes around which the detectives said were powder burns. Deimler said he picked it up this morning about 15 yards from where the bodies were found and near a path leading toward the streets of the city.

Know Murderer.
County officials declared they knew who did the shooting and where it occurred.

The bodies were found Saturday morning under an apple tree in Somerset county. Some of the authorities have expressed a belief the shooting occurred over the line in Middlesex county, and that the bodies were then removed.

It has been disclosed that while the face of Mrs. Mills bore marks of powder burns, no such marks were found on the body of Mr. Hall. This was thought to indicate the receptor was slain as he attempted to escape and that the person who shot the couple was close at hand when the single shot which killed Mrs. Mills was fired, our bullet wounds were found in Mr. Hall's body.

Strength was added to the theory that another woman was in the party when the shooting occurred when it was learned that Mrs. Mills' face and arms bore signs of deep nail scratches.

FINE CATTLE ARE ADDED TO DAIRY CIRCUIT

Carson, N. D., Sept. 18.—W. F. Reynolds has unloaded a pearly roan Holstein bull at Lark. This bull of Lark. This bull is the best Holstein bull that has been shipped into Grand county. This animal took first prize at Janesville, Wisconsin, this fall and was shown at the state fair at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he ranked high in his class.

Mr. Reynolds shipped in fifteen head of pure bred heifer; this spring. These heifers were sired by sires, whose dams have seven day records from 28 to 35 pounds. He shipped in this herd to lay a foundation for one of the greatest Holstein herds in the state. Heading the herd with the bull he shipped to Lark on Monday, he now ranks with any one in the state raising pure bred Holsteins.

Mr. Reynolds is a scientific and systematic dairyman, a member of the Flasher Holstein Association, in which he has 35 cows on year test.

KEMAL PLANS NEW MOSLEM EMPIRE; ROUT OF GREEKS IS FIRST STEP

VIEW OF CONSTANTINOPLE, CENTER OF THE MOHAMMEDAN FAITH. BELOW, MUSTAPHA KEMAL PASHA, ISLAM'S NEW LEADER.

BY NORRIS W. QUINN.
New York, Sept. 19.—In the occupation of Smyrna and the rout of Greek troops along the whole coast of Asia Minor, Mustafa Kemal Pasha, hitherto obscure head of the Turkish Nationalist government at Angora, has accomplished more than a momentary military victory.

Kemal has made himself military and political leader of Islam and will now be looked upon as the head of the great Mohammedan fraternity comprising almost a third of the world's population with ramifications reaching even into our own Philippines.

The Turkish leader now is planning to use to the greatest possible advantage the prestige gained by his victory over the Greeks.

Playing on the peculiar political influence Mohammedans are able to wield in the colonial possessions of the great powers, Kemal today is preparing to take the first step toward welding all Islam together into a political-religious empire.

NORTH DAKOTA HEIFER MAKING WORLD RECORD

That a heifer bred in North Dakota, well up toward the Canadian line, is in the way to making a world record in butter fat production is the information coming back to the State Dairy Department here from Ohio. The sale, that took the heifer away from North Dakota as a two year old, was made at the National Dairy Show last year, when several herds were shown from this state.

One of the herds was the Page herd from Pembina county. Hamilton, the location of the Page farm is twelve miles from the Canadian border and the herd was exhibited to show the dairying possibilities in "the coldest state in the union" under average farm conditions. One of the animals in the Page exhibit was May Ibsen Signal, a heifer, just then finishing her record as a two year old of 610.33 pounds fat on two milkings a day. This is not a world record, but was considered an unusual record for the conditions surrounding a dairy farm in Northern Pembina county.

At the exhibit, the heifer fell under the scrutiny of Mr. Hugh Bonnell of Youngstown, Ohio and a sale was finally agreed upon. One of the agreements of the sale was that Mr. Bonnell would return to North Dakota the calf. He was willing to do this, because it was his impression that it would not fit into his line of breeding.

When the calf was born, May Ebsen Signal was started on test again and on the report made to the local dairy department, she had compiled a total of 505.75 at the end of 188 days, a record that places her in excellent position to break the world record, according to the cattle statisticians in the dairy department. The record for the dairy department is held by Lass 65th of Hood farm. That a practically unknown heifer from North Dakota is in the same class with one of the high priced animals from the petted herd in Massachusetts is a matter of pride in the local department. The Hood herd has had money lavished upon it for generations and everything possible to make it a great herd, that money and breeding science can produce, has been at the behest of its herdsman.

The sequel to the remarkable production of the dam was that North Dakota did not get the calf back. The former owners, however, put a check so large in its place, that it balanced the first price requested for the heifer.

Allied Defensive Strengthened—Halts Progress of Kemal's Ambition

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, Sept. 19.—The French cabinet today unanimously approved what is characterized as the "Pacifist" policy of Premier Poincare in the Near East and the withdrawal of all the French troops from Asia Minor to the French side of Straits of the Dardanelles.

The cabinet went firmly on record as being opposed to any form of military action as a means of settlement in the Turkish-Greek situation. It emphasized the necessity of reaching an agreement through diplomatic channels and eventually by a peace conference.

GREAT BRITISH FIRM

(By the Associated Press)
Bulletin London, Sept. 19.—The British cabinet takes the attitude that Great Britain will undertake military action alone if necessary, independent of France and Italy, to protect the freedom of the Dardanelles. It was authoritatively stated after this forenoon's protracted cabinet meeting.

An official communique issued from Downing Street this afternoon declares in substance that the government stands by its "pronouncement of policy issued to the press Saturday, notwithstanding newspaper reports to the contrary."

BRITISH LAND FORCES

(By the Associated Press)
Constantinople, Sept. 19.—British military experts here believe that whatever opportunity Mustafa Kemal Pasha had for a conspiracy against Constantinople has now been lost. In view of the quick strengthening of the allied defensive forces in the neutral zone.

All the available British warships have left Malta for Constantinople and the Dorset regiment from Egypt and the Staffordshire regiment from the Gibraltar, are on the way.

Forces landed from the British ships have already entrenched themselves on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, bringing the strength of the British land forces to ten thousand. Two Italian battalions are expected from Rhodes. The advance guard of the Turks is reported to be thirty miles south of Chanak, and the army fifty miles.

Jugo-Slavia has mobilized three divisions on a line extending from Uskub, in Southern Serbia, to Ploer, near the Bulgarian border. This is evidently to guard against any possible attempt at the re-occupation of Thrace by the Turks or their allies.

May Ask Greece to Aid.
Greece may be requested to participate in the defense of the straits. Assurances that the British dominions are also ready to dispatch troops to the Dardanelles, if necessary, have helped allay the anxiety of the population and Constantinople is breathing easier. It is believed an attempt by the Kemalists now would meet with certain repulse.

Permission to send vessels to Smyrna to take off the Christian refugees has been granted by Mustafa Kemal Pasha to the allied powers, the United States and Greece. Males between the ages of 15 and 25 are to be sent.

CARGOES OF SOFT COAL AT DULUTH

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—Fourteen additional cargoes of soft coal, approximately 100,000 tons, are en route to Duluth and Superior docks for distribution in the Northwest states, according to information received today by C. P. White, Federal Fuel Distributor for the Northwest.

These 14 cargoes are in addition to the 25 cargoes reported en route yesterday, which will make a total tonnage of approximately 300,000 tons of bituminous coal at the Head of the Lakes docks. The steady flow of soft coal into Northwest channels makes the outlook for coal supply in the Northwest the most optimistic experienced since the crisis was reported, Mr. White said.

MAINTAINS NO PROVISION FOR REVENUE

Total Cost of Measure Placed By Treasury at Four Billion

WITH SPIRIT OF BILL

Declares Congress Failed to Provide Funds With Which To Meet Compensation

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 19.—The soldiers bonus bill was vetoed today by President Harding.

In returning the measure to congress without his approval, the executive in a message to the House, declared that he was in accord with the avowed purposes of the bill, but that he could not subscribe to its provisions.

Outlining the reasons for his veto, the President said that congress had failed, first of all, to provide the revenue from which the bestowal was to be paid. He added that the ultimate cost could not be estimated definitely, but that the treasury figured the total at $750,000,000 for the first four years with a final charge in excess of $4,000,000,000.

Mr. Harding told congress on the proposed service certificates substituted for the original cash payment, would constitute borrowing on the nation's credit just as truly as though the loans were made by direct government borrowing.

He added that this involves a dangerous abuse of public credit. The executive declared that it was essential "to remember that a more than $4,000,000,000 pledge to able service men" would not diminish the later obligation which the veterans contributed to the "roles of the aged, indigent and dependent." This obligation, he said, would "cost more billions than I venture to suggest."

In the House where the leaders say more than the necessary two-thirds will vote to pass the bill over the President's veto, a roll call was postponed until tomorrow noon on the motion of Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, the republican leader.

"It is not to be denied that the nation has certain very binding obligations to those of its defenders who made real sacrifices in the world war and who left the armies injured, disabled or diseased so that they could not resume their places in the normal activities of life. These obligations are being gladly and generously met. Perhaps there are here and there a few exceptions and injustices and some distressing instances of neglect but they are all unintentional, and every energy is being directed to their earliest possible correction."

No Complaint.
"In meeting this obligation there is no complaint about the heavy cost. In the current fiscal year we are expending $510,000,000 on hospitalization and care of sick and wounded, on compensation and vocational training for the disabled, and for insurance. The figures do not include the more than $25,000,000 in process of expenditure on hospital construction."

"The estimates for the year to follow are approximately $470,000,000 and the figures may need to be made larger. Though the peak in hospitalization may have passed, there is a growth in demobilization and the discharge in full of our obligations to the diseased, disabled or dependent who have a right to the government's care, with insurance liability added, will probably reach a total sum in excess of $25,000,000."

999,000 Enrolled.
"More than 999,000 veterans are now enrolled in some of the 445 different camps in various parts of the country. Fifty-four thousand of them are in schools or colleges, more than 38,000 are in industrial establishments and a few more than 6,000 are being trained in schools operated by the veterans' bureau."

"Approximately nineteen thousand have completed their courses and have employment in all cases where they desire it, and 53,000 have deferred for the present time their acceptance of training. The number eligible under the law may reach close to 400,000 and facilities will continue to be afforded, until every obligation is fulfilled."

"Two hundred and seventy-six thousand patients have been hospitalized, more than a quarter of a million discharged and 25,678 patients are in our hospital today."

"Four hundred and sixteen thousand awards of compensation have been made on account of death or disability and $480,000,000 have been paid to disabled men or their dependent relatives. One hundred and seventy-five thousand disabled ex-service men are now receiving compensation along with medical or hospital care where needed and a quarterly of a million checks for out-patient care is being distributed."

Suggested Sales Tax.
"When the bill was under consideration in the House I expressed the conviction that any grant of

WEDDING STORY INJECTED INTO FEDERAL TRIAL

Double Wedding at Minneapolis Hotel Cost $2,000, Witness Says He Was Told

BANKRUPTCY MATTER

Dealings of Abe Gordon, Minnot Merchant, Before Judge Miller of Federal Court

The story of a double wedding in the Radisson hotel at Minneapolis which cost $2,000 was embellished by Abe Gordon, Minnot merchant, with gifts of $5,000 to each of his daughters, entered into the case in federal court here in which O. A. Schieber, trustee, is seeking cover for the benefit of creditors.

Gordon Clothing Company and the Leader store at Minnot and a store in which Gordon was interested in Valley City.

W. A. Marin, representing a Twin City jobbers' credit bureau, on the witness stand for the plaintiff in the suit, at a creditors' meeting a purported representative of Gordon explained the giving by Gordon of a mortgage of $13,500 to his son-in-law, Burnett Wolfson of Minneapolis, stating that Abe Gordon's daughters were married at the Minneapolis hotel and that the cost of the wedding was about $2,000; that he gave drafts of $5,000 to each of his two daughters and that he used the remainder of the $13,500 for personal expenses.

It is expected that when the defense in the case begins its testimony it will deny this statement, as lawyers for the plaintiff assert that the weddings of the daughters were eight months apart and in different cities. The case, being heard by Federal Judge Andrew Miller, has occupied the court's attention for several days and probably will not be finished before the end of this week.

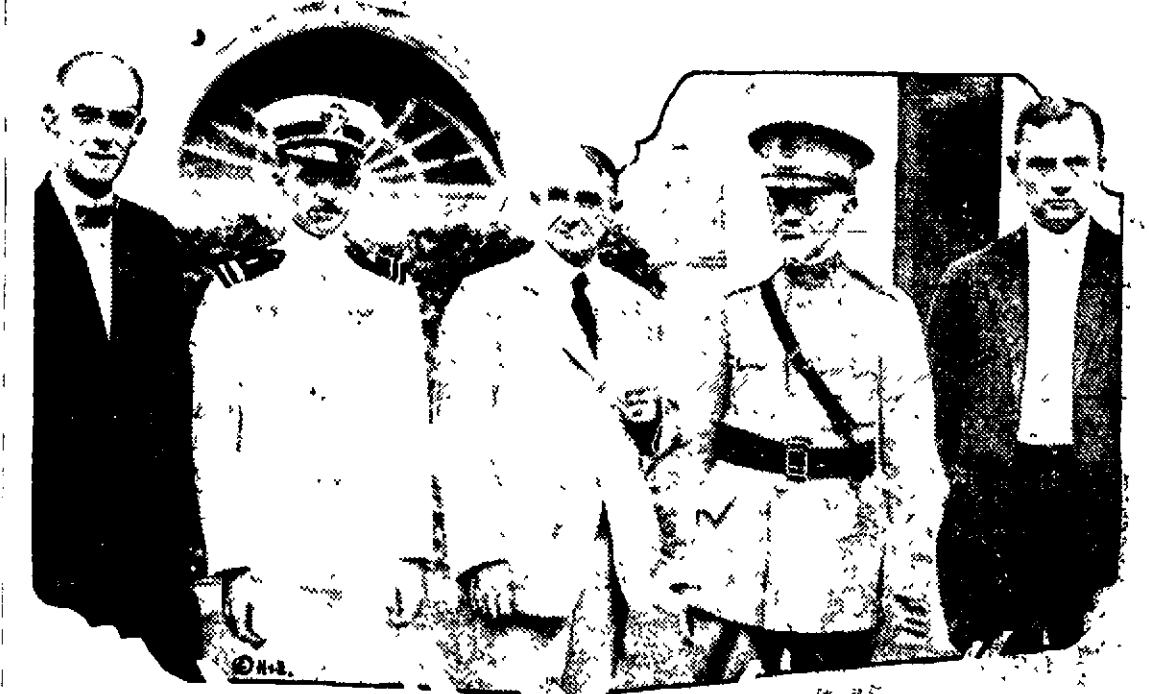

Had Ups and Downs Gordon has had a lot of ups and downs in business, according to plaintiff attorneys. They assert that on at least three different occasions he has been in difficulty with creditors and has settled his debts at discounts. Gordon has been in partnership with his brother, Herman Gordon, failing about 1909. The firm continued for a time after the failure, but it is said to have been less than 60 cents on the dollar and after a short time the brothers opened separate stores. Since that time, plaintiff attorneys assert, Gordon made a settlement in 1916 with creditors for forty cents on the dollar.

The present difficulties date back to November, 1921. According to Mr. Marin, on the witness stand, Gordon notified creditors he was in difficulty and that representation was made that the Gordon's financial condition was as follows: assets, merchandise $50,000; fixtures, $8,000; accounts, $2,000; building valued at $40,000, encumbered $17,500. Liabilities $58,830. A meeting of creditors was held Dec. 14, 1921. According to Mr. Marin, Gordon said that delay in the arrival of fixtures prevented a new store from opening during the previous summer and that after it was opened about Sept. 1 it lost money. He said Gordon offered to pay creditors 80 cents on the dollar if he could make a deal he expected, give 10 percent in secured notes and eventually pay the rest. Negotiations dragged on and after an inventory was taken in January and the assets found to be less than had been expected an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed.

Gordon's bankruptcy scheduled attorneys claimed, fully set forth his assets and liabilities, which were: assets, merchandise, $17,000; fixtures, $2,000; accounts $4,000 and store buildings, $65,000 to over 70 creditors, $4,700 owing to his wife, $14,000 mortgage on building; $18,500 second mortgage on building; $2,000 to Minnot bank, and other indebtedness, increasing the total to over $100,000.

Store Started in 1921 The Valley City store was started in March, 1921, a partnership of Abe Gordon and Sam Gordon, Abe stating, according to attorneys, he wanted to help his brother out. Later the business was incorporated as Gordon Clothiers, stockholders being Sam Gordon, Minnie Gordon and Abe Gordon. Abe claims to have sold his interest last summer for

PROHIBITION AGENT'S "MORGUE" HELD GOOD "MOONSHINE" CURE

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—A few minutes in a little room on the third floor of the federal building here is prescribed as a sure cure for the "moonshine" habit by Arthur A. Stone, state director of the federal prohibition forces in North Dakota. The little room, commonly referred to as the "morgue" is the repository for a miscellaneous collection of cans, boilers and what-nots collected by the prohibition men in their daily work, which have been stored there until their former owners have been dealt with by the courts.

At present the collection represents some 40 or 50 moonshine stills near stills and the dispensers, according to Mr. Stone. They represent the misdirected efforts of many empy inventors. They range in size from the diminutive tea-kettle variety to the more profitable ones of 20 or 30 gallons capacity.

The family washbowl, whose interior is somewhat tinged with green $2,500, it is represented by plaintiff attorneys.

Attorneys for the plaintiff assert the transfer of the Valley City store and many of the encumbrances on the Minnot stores were fraudulent and made for the purpose of defrauding creditors. The businesses involved are said to be worth over $40,000.

Soloists Aid Soloists of the pageant were Mrs. W. S. Fitzsimons of Mandan and Mrs. Frank Barnes and Mrs. John Graham of Bismarck. Many organizations contributed their share to the pageant.

Company A, North Dakota National Guard, being a live organization, contributed much to making the historical pageant a success. Members of the Company A were in full scenes. They charged as General Sully's men in the battle of '04 on horseback, furnished ten men in the Bismarck scene of 1872, had eight men in the quadrille and joined with American Legion men in the Over The Top scene.

Most of the guns used were the property of Company A and it would have been difficult to present all the scenes without the hearty cooperation of the organization.

The complete cast and names of organizations participating was given in The Tribune yesterday. The pageant was under the direction of The Thurston management, Minneapolis.

KEMEL PLANS NEW MOSELEM EMPIRE

(Continued from Page 1) Egypt, Syria, India and North Africa. All of these will recognize Kemal as their head and as the "defender of the faith."

No Opposition. In taking the first step—the peace with reeve—Kemal will find no opposition from the great powers, his friends here say.

The powers will accede to the Turkish leader's demands because they fear refusal would bring about rebellion among Mohammedan elements in their colonial possessions. This applies to Great Britain, France and Italy.

At the peace table Kemal will force the abrogation of the treaty of Sevres, signed after the World War, which chopped a much of Turkey's territory.

Kemal, however, will allow the internationalization of Constantinople, only demanding that he be permitted to act as guardian of the holy Mohammedan places there or that he have power to name the guardian.

Under Way. The second step—making Angora a world center of Mohammedanism—already is under way. The city is being enlarged and beautified. Plans are being made for a great Moslem university there.

Conclusion of pact with Mohammedan leaders and rulers in other countries will be easy and Kemal will see to it that each compact strengthens his position as head of the Islamic world.

The Amcer of Afghanistan, most powerful independent Moslem ruler, has been eager to ally himself with any movement looking toward a restoration of Mohammedan power.

The detached Mohammedan elements in Syria and Arabia likewise are eager to attach themselves to some central power that will aid them in their fight against European aggression.

And Persia is tired of being dominated by Europe. Already Kemal's influence among revolutionary elements in North Africa, Egypt and India has been seen and feared by Great Britain, and France. France concluded an alliance with Kemal to offset his influence in Africa.

Texas, the greatest pecan nut producing area in the world, has about one-third yield this year.

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years, since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875. I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic physic. Calomel, a mercurial that salivates and loosens teeth, has been revived; salt waters and powders that draw needed constituents from the blood; coal tar disguised in candy form that causes skin eruptions. In a practice of 47 years I have never seen any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping, and without shock to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It lowers your strength 28 per cent, hardens the arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope but go to a drugist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a generous-size bottle. Take a teaspoonful at night, before morning you will be well. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, piles, indigestion, loss of appetite or sleep, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

Motor Trucks Extend Food Supply Radius 50 Miles

HERBERT HOOVER says: "The motor truck has given every town an extended radius of food supply by some 50 miles, and thereby protects such vital matters as milk and perishables."

Formerly 10 miles was as far as the farmer could profitably haul his produce. The increasing number of motor trucks on the farm is making the farmer more and more independent of other forms of transportation. It is extending a primary market five times, giving the farmer greater security and doing much to insure him the full profit from his crops and produce.

E. E. La Schum, Superintendent of Equipment of the American Railway Express Company, says that while the average mileage of trucks is about 40 miles per day, they are capable of making 100 miles without undue strain.

This means that in every truck there are 60 unused daily transportation miles, which can be used when emergency calls.

The farmers of the 10 states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) own 46,582 trucks. These represent unused, potential transportation of 2,794,920 miles per day—quite enough to make the farmer feel reasonably independent and to make the city dweller secure.

The value of these trucks to their owners, and to the community, depends upon an ample supply of gasoline and oils, instantly available when needed.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), recognizing its duty to the public, has organized its distributing facilities to a point where only a complete breakdown of public utilities can prevent its supplying these trucks with oil and gasoline needed, no matter in what corner of the 10 states they may be.

In the cycle of service to which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is committed, the truck plays just as important a part as the automobile and the tractor.

This entire organization is working as one man, to perfect a complete service, and to maintain this service at such a maximum of efficiency that no piece of automotive machinery in the Middle West need ever be delayed a single moment of usefulness through lack of suitable petroleum products.

Story of Sakakawea, "The Bird Woman," To Be Told In Historical Episode of Pageant Presented This Week

Sakakawea, the Indian girl who guided Lewis and Clark on their famous expedition in 1804 from Dakota to the Pacific, will be represented in the pageant to be given tonight by Mrs. Walter Renden of Mandan, who will assume the pose represented in the statue of Sakakawea on the state capitol grounds, as she turns her face westward with the expedition.

The scene opens with an Indian wedding, and then shows the approach of the Lewis and Clark men. The Indians debate whether they will meet the white men in war or in peace, and finally decide to meet them in peace. The husband of Sakakawea, a Frenchman, acts as interpreter. The peace pipe ceremonial is held. The Indians, to show their sincerity then stage a dog feast for the Lewis and Clark men, and do while it means the departure of money of the firewhips. The white men return the compliment. A violinist entertains, one dances a clog dance, and York, a negro with the Lewis and Clark party, amazes the Indians by feats of strength. The Indians are shown pulling his hair and rubbing his skin to find if he really is black or is just painted.

A famous clown with the Lewis and Clark expedition entertains with acrobatic stunts. The party then goes hunting.

Capt. Clark asks the Indian chief for a guide. The chief calls Sakakawea, a Shoshone Indian girl taken captive in her early years. She readily accepts the offer to guide the party, so that she may reach her husband also is well pleased, for while it means the departure of money of the firewhips. WINDOW RELIC DISPLAYS WIN MUCH PRAISE

All Bismarck Window Gazes Over Sunday at Unusually Fine Displays Shown

DR. PORTER COLLECTION

Bismarck went window gazing Sunday, the many windows downtown containing priceless relics, being the object of hundreds of eager eyes. The display of relics has far exceeded expectations, their being many very rare and valuable.

One of the finest collections shown is in the store window of Geo. W. Little, on East Broadway. The collection of Dr. H. R. Porter, surgeon at old Fort Lincoln in the old days and a heroic figure, is the chief feature. It includes many photographs, firearms and other relics. There also is shown an extra of The Tribune of July 6, 1876, telling of the Custer massacre. This is the property of Jack Lyons. A medal given to Mr. Lyon's father for bravery also is shown.

The Minneapolis chapter of the D. A. R. has a window in the Capital Security Bank, which includes many colonial relics. One of the pieces is a Dutch colonial set more than 100 years old.

In the window of Nielson's millinery store is shown some pottery work and needle work. There is a Norwegian lunch cloth more than 100 years old.

Window Nicely Decorated

A beautifully decorated window is that of Richmond's Bottery, decorated by Mrs. Mary McLean and Mrs. J. B. Belk. The display includes a picture of Capt. Henry Marcotte, U. S. A., retired, and picture of his sculptor work. Since Capt. Marcotte, who in 1872 in company with a few men built the blockhouse afterwards known as Ft. McKean, has been living in St. Augustine, Fla. he has made a reputation as a sculptor. Some beautiful Filipino cloth work is shown in the display, with a number of fine photographs and relics.

There is a photograph of Lieut. W. J. McLean, N. D. N. G. Spanish War. A number of rare books are shown in the window of Harris and Woodmansee. They include a Bible published in 1778, the property of A. J. Osterander, and several rare volumes of L. F. Crawford. There is a Masonic patent issued to Peter F. LeRoy Dec. 27, 1804.

In Knowles' window are some fine examples of old China. One relic is a honey pot from the household of King Edward VII of England. There is a watch over 100 years old.

A Napoleon platter and a thimble 100 years old.

Some fine Indian work is shown in Cowan's. In Finney's window a million Russian rubles is included, the property of Rev. Monson. There is a picture of John Smith, Indian, 120 years of age. An Indian love story is told on a cloth in pictures. Memories of the Spanish-American War are recalled by a fine display in the Grand Pacific Billiard Hall, placed there by John Peterson. It also includes some fine old pictures of Bismarck.

"Harris-Robertson's window depicts garments worn in the early '80's by the belles of Bismarck, there being some very beautiful creations.

In the Western Union office is the first telegram sent out in 1872 by Mrs. Linda Slaughter to the Northwestern Telegraph Company, headquarters at New York, containing a greeting to the world from newly founded Edwinton. In Sanders Electric shop window there are pictures entitled "The first live wires" of North Dakota, and they included many famous characters of the old days. Remnants have a number of modern pictures of Indians on display.

Styles of Pioneer days Style of pioneer days and even earlier days are shown in the displays of pioneer dresses, shawls, accessories, on display in the windows of Webb brothers. A wedding gown with a large quantity of real Battenberg lace and a train shows the taste of one Bismarck woman. Shawls from Indian, old ivory fans, mohair scarves and shawls, handmade thread lace for neck ware and for headresses, old fashion jewelry, and pictures are a few of the articles to be seen in this window.

A hammered brass tray that is over 100 years old and a brass toaster are articles that hint of interesting history behind their years. One piece of luster ware age 150 or 200 years, indicates its rare value by its plain color.

There is one old English etching of "Genteburg Pilgrims which dates back to 1810 and a garment made of some of the first goods ever manufactured in England.

On display in the windows at Lankhart's Drug store are blue prints of the new Missouri river bridge and samples of clay, cement, and bars of steel such as were used for reinforcing the concrete, the display being placed there by the Bismarck engineers.

Many of the old Indian chiefs, scenes of early Bismarck, before and after the flood, the early stage coach, a custer group, a number of Bismarck's prominent pioneers, and some scenes of the Northern Pacific railroad bridge, of the property of Capt. I. P. Baker, are on display in the windows of the Bismarck Bank.

An old incense burner of brass, shaped like a dragon, and surrounded with the romance of the East, occupies a place of prominence in the windows at Breslow's Drug stores. This is the property of Mrs. Edwin M. Stanton and was presented to an uncle of hers who was ambassador to Japan one time. A rather interesting thing here is a set of the first clear pressed glass ever manufactured. This is the property of Mrs. T. R. Taylor. Some china ware and other articles that date back about 150 years or so are also to be seen here.

Old Wedding Dress Shown

A wedding dress worn by Mrs. S. A. Peterson in 1873, a bird's eye maple bowl 150 years of age, a Turquoise medal commemorating the transfer of the remains of Viscount de Turenne in 1611-1675, who was marshal of France to the Temple of Mars by the order of the First Consul Bonaparte, the property of Chas. Lissaman, spreads, rugs, old money, fans, and articles from the Samana islands are a few of the antiques to be found in the windows at A. W. Lucas & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wakeman, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Barnes, and Mrs. Edith Wakeman Hughes have a wonderful display of old pieces of furniture, pictures, albums, dishes and quilts in the Little building on West Broadway. One unique article is a hooked rug in 1850 with the picture of the home of one of the "ancestors."

In the Hughes Electric shop window is a display of articles by Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Kikal. Here is a table set of red linen and a sewing table decorated with leaves and fruit made from sheepskin. Sheepskin fancy work was popular in the early days. Many other articles of interest are to be seen here.

The wedding dress of Mrs. S. A. Peterson, worn 42 years ago in Bismarck, is on display. Mrs. E. E. Morris has a display of old silver and old-time dishes, also an old piece quilt, and a salad spoon and fork brought from Scotland 150 years ago.

Mr. Homan has on display an old Paisley shawl, a wool scarf, an old history published a century ago and other relics.

QUADRILLE TO BE DANCED IN PAGEANT THERE

Modern Dances Taboo, as Members of Quadrille Show Graceful Dance

"Dance these modern dances? Well, we could, but if you want a pretty, graceful dance try the quadrille," remarked one of those participating in the Pageant Quadrille, to be featured tonight in the presentation. And there are a lot of people who have seen the rehearsal who agree that Quadrille is one of the best scenes in the pageant.

Mrs. Mary McLean, chairman of the Quadrille Committee, is insistent that it be staged just exactly as in the days when General Custer entertained, and she has many willing co-workers.

Mrs. McLean came from Brainard, Minnesota, to Bismarck on July 28, 1874 when a school girl. The first dancing party she attended was given by Col. William Thompson of Fort Abraham Lincoln at his ranch which was situated north of the capital, at which time General Custer and all of the officers and their ladies from old Fort Lincoln were in attendance.

Mrs. McLean danced with General Custer's brother, Lieut. Tom Custer, and also with his cousin, Bos. The ballroom was decorated with American flags. The music was furnished by the cavalry orchestra. Mrs. McLean furnished the following sketch of members of the Quadrille:

H. L. Reade came to Bismarck in 1883, and was engaged in business until a few years ago when he was made state fire marshal, a position he held several years. Mr. Reade is secretary of the State Firemen's Association and has been for a quarter of a century.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staley came to the state in the early '80's, and have seen most of the development of this section of the state. Mr. Staley now is interested in the French and Welch Hardware Co.

Mr. and Mrs. West Burch came to the state in 1883. Mr. Burch engaged in farming for several years. Mr. William Couch is a nephew of Edward Sloan, who was an early resident of the section. Mr. Couch is president of the Capitol Steam Laundry. Mrs. Patzman came to the state in the latter '80's.

Parents of Dr. G. A. Rawlings came to the state in the early days. His father was a member of the first legislature. Mrs. Rawlings came to the state with her parents also in the early '80's. P. E. Byrne arrived in Bismarck in 1881. Mrs. Byrne's parents were among the early pioneers, her father coming in 1858 and her mother in 1874. Mrs. O'Hare came to the state with her parents in April, 1885, and Mr. O'Hare in the latter '80's. J. D. Wakeman came to the state in 1872 and Mrs. E. E. Morris in 1883.

J. B. Belk, in set no. 3, came to Bismarck in the early days. Mrs. Belk's father came to the state in July, 1877. E. L. Faunce came here in 1880, conducting a store until he retired from business two years ago. Mrs. Faunce came in November, 1877. T. E. Flaherty was living in the state before coming to Bismarck and has taken an active part in the affairs of the county. Charles Glitska came here with his parents in the early '70's, his father being a well-known merchant in pioneer days. Miss Aditya Ward's parents came to Jamestown in 1872 and in 1888 came to Bismarck. Miss Ward and her brothers and sisters are real North Dakotans, having been born in Burleigh county.

J. D. McDonald, in set no. 4, came to Bismarck in 1876. He and his brother kept a wheelwright shop in the early days. Later on he lived on his farm. He has now retired from business and is living in the city. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thompson came to the state in the early days. Mr. Thompson recently retired from his plumbing business, conducted for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blunt's parents came to the state among the first pioneers. Mr. Blunt's father being one of the early steamboat captains, plying the river in 1858. Mrs. Blunt came to Bismarck with her parents in 1873. William Cook came to Bismarck and in 1873 and Mrs. A. C. Hinkley came to Bismarck in August, 1873.

CAPT MARCOTTE RECALLS DAYS IN BISMARCK

Capt. Henry Marcotte of St. Augustine, Fla., a well known historian who was at old Fort Abraham Lincoln in the old days has written to Mrs. W. A. Falcner an acknowledgment of an invitation to be present in Bismarck during the celebration.

"Though not with the good people in body my spirit has never left Bismarck and I am ever ready to be present at the Golden Age of the first infant settlement born in the Dakotas, he wrote. "While not included in the parents of the promising youth it has always been my desire to be remembered as one of the protecting sponsors who watched over the lucky youngster for your prosperous city."

BRINGS CUSTER MASSACRE EXTRA

W. L. Watson of McKenzio, a resident of this section for 41 years, came to Bismarck today with other McKenzio people to be present at the bridge dedication. He brought with him a copy of the Bismarck Tribune extra of July 6, 1876, telling of the Custer massacre, and containing the names of all those in it.

The copy is one of the few in existence, and Mr. Watson placed it in a window at the store of Harris and Woodmansee.

RAILROAD MAN KILLED.

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 18. William Birch, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. M. Debs of Dickinson and a former railroad operator between Dickinson and Glendive, was killed by being run over by a train to the Seattle, Spokane, and Southern railroad yards at Portland, Oregon, on the morning of September 5th. Mr. Birch, who was exceptionally well known among local railroad men, was buried at Glendive, Mont., on Sunday, September 10. The Misses Emma and Pauline Debs, sister-in-laws of the deceased, attended the services from here.

cast on the waters of the "Big Muddy," fifty feet below the paved roadway on the bridge.

Major Hanley, President of the dedication exercises, Father Hiltner gave the invocation. W. H. Robinson, state engineer, sketching briefly the history of the project, turned to Governor Nestos who accepted the bridge in the name of the people of the state of North Dakota to whom it was dedicated, and stressed its importance in the future of the western half of the state.

The Governor, in his brief remarks, called attention to the linking of the east and the west by the new bridge, the important place it has in the trans-continental Red Trail and the new community of interest opened to the people of Bismarck and Mandan, and the residents east and west of the Missouri river. He paid tribute to the pioneers who blazed the way and made possible the development of the region to its present state.

C. A. P. Turner of Minneapolis, designer of the bridge, was introduced to the audience.

The parade, as do all features of the three-day celebration opening today, contrasted the old and the new in western history. Many beautiful floats occupied places in the line of march. Headed by W. S. Casselman, marshal of the day, the parade moved through the streets and to the bridge. Leading it were cars containing Governor Nestos and other state officials, members of the city commission of Bismarck and others. One of the first floats carried a dozen pioneer women of the city and state.

Among the floats having honored places in line were the St. Alexis and Bismarck hospitals, important institutions for the western part of the state. The St. Alexis float contained an inscription telling of the founding of the hospital in 1885, one of Bismarck's very oldest institutions. Girls who will participate in the historical pageant to be given tonight on the Country Club grounds, soldiers and other characters in the pageant were included in the parade.

Many-Fine Floats
Among the most beautiful floats in the parade was a car of the Bismarck Motor Company carrying the candidates in the Pageant Queen contest and the Hoskins-Meyer float which was decorated profusely with flowers, all native grown.

The parade included the following floats: O. H. Will Co., North Dakota Independent Telephone Co., girls from the Indian school, Bartlett's radiator works, Auto Accessory Co., Bismarck grocers, Nelson's Millinery, Logan's grocery, H. H. Engman, decorator, Bursleigh-Kidder Dairy, Lockwood Accessory Co., Modern Dairy Co., Perry Furniture Co., J. B. Smith, groceries, National Tailors and Cleaners, Capitol Bottling Works, automobiles from the Copeland Motor Co., M. B. Gillman Co., Lahr Motor Sales Co., E. B. Loubek Co., Corwin Motor Co.

Visitors began flocking to the city early in the day, many coming on the early morning trains while others, many of whom remember the stage coach days, came in automobiles. A barbecue following the bridge dedication, band concerts, airplane flights and the pageant at 7:15 p. m. were on the program.

RESCUERS BREAK THROUGH TO MINE WORKERS

men said the hole proved that the 3,600-foot level of the Kennedy mine and the 4,200-foot level of the Argonaut mine has been connected.

Fire in the Argonaut mine has decreased since the opening of the drifts between the Kennedy and Argonaut shafts, according to an official report issued at 8 a. m. by Dr. L. H. Duschak, consulting chemical engineer of the California State Industrial Accident Commission.

Air is rushing through the 3,600-foot level of the Kennedy mine to the 4,200-foot level of the Argonaut at such a rate that it now requires four men to close a door, the 9:20 a. m. bulletin issued by Fred L. Lewell, state industrial accident commission engineer, said.

This means that the air in the Argonaut will be purified quickly for exploration and rescue work, mine officials said.

Timbering the opening between the Kennedy and Argonaut mines to prevent a cave in on the rescuers who stand ready to enter the Argonaut in which 47 men have been entombed, delayed the federal mine rescue crews from entering the Argonaut, according to the last word.

EARLY TRIAL OF MURDER CASE TO BE SOUGHT

Dickinson, Sept. 18.—Nick Strichynski, who on June 17, last shot and killed John Shabatura during an altercation on the road near Coplin, an inland village in Billings county, where both were residing, will probably be arraigned at a special term of the Billings county district court at Medora on Monday, September 25, it was announced this week Judge Thomas H. Pugh will provide.

Strichynski, who has been lodged in the Billings county jail since the shooting has, through his attorneys, asked for an early trial. This will probably be granted him and it is likely that a change of venue will be taken, either to Dunn or Stark county.

The quarrel which led to the killing came as the climax of long standing trouble between the two men who were Russian farmers. According to the story told by Strichynski, Shabatura struck him over the head with a beer bottle when the met on the road. He took up the challenge and knocked Shabatura from his horse. When the latter came toward him a second time, threatening to kill him, he drew a .38 revolver and shot Shabatura twice. Both bullets entered the left side, passed through the heart and lodged in the vertebrae. Strichynski then gave himself up to the authorities.

Attorney Walter Ray of Medora will be assisted by Attorney W. C. Crawford, of the law firm of Crawford and Barrett of Dickinson, in prosecuting the case. Attorneys H. A. Haney of Belfield and T. F. Martin of Dickinson have been engaged as counsel for the defendant.

SLOPE TEACHERS HOLD MEETING AT DICKINSON

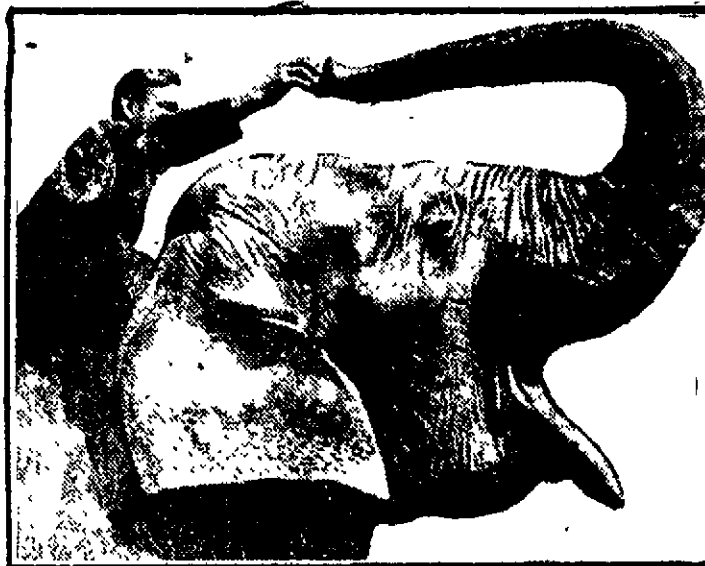

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 18.—Dickinson will be host to nearly a thousand teachers from all parts of the Missouri Slope on October 19, 20 and 21, when the annual meeting of the North Dakota Teachers' association will be held in the city.

Professor J. E. Running and County Superintendent H. O. Pippin, president and secretary of the association, are now busy with plans for the entertainment and together with members of the various committees appointed are arranging for the accommodation of the delegates.

The convention will be the largest ever held in the city, with possibly one exception, the Elks' convention in 1915, and the registration committee finds that the housing facilities of the city will be taxed to the utmost in providing accommodations for the delegates.

Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that she will call teachers' institutes in every Slope county for the week beginning October 16. These institutes will close on Thursday in order that teachers from every

POSSE AFTER MEN WHO SHOT TWO OFFICERS

The posse surrounded the cabin before dawn today, after an all night manhunt following the shooting, which occurred when the officers attempted to arrest Nagel on a charge of forgery.

Just as Nagel's cabin when the officers accompanied by William Carpenter, demanded admittance. Two bullets crashed through the door from the inside in reply and the officers fled. Carpenter rushed to town for assistance and a hastily organized posse took up pursuit of the men who had fled from the cabin.

Sheriff Van Etten, who was shot through the hip, was reported to be in a serious condition this morning. A physician who made an examination said that the bullet which entered near the pelvis had shattered the pelvic bone.

McMicken was shot through the left leg.

ARE CLOSING IN

International Falls, Minn., Sept. 19.—Possemen were closing in this afternoon on a point in the brush near Ranier in the belief that it was the hiding place of Joe Nagel and Joe Bush, wanted men in connection with the shooting and wounding of two local officers late last night.

Chief of Police Thomas Tinchalla, in charge of the posse of 75 men, said at noon that he thought he had seen the two fugitives as they entered the clump of brush, and a guard was hurriedly thrown around the point.

Earlier today the possemen surrounded a cabin three miles east of here, but their efforts were futile, as the two men either never had been in the cabin or had slipped through the line of pursuers.

FRENCH ARE OPPOSED TO FIGHTING TURKS

15 and 45 are expected and it is presumed the Nationalists intend to use them for military purposes.

The situation in Smyrna is still one of the gravest character. The reign of terror continues among the Christian population and French troops are reported to have fired upon Turkish irregulars whom they caught killing and pillaging Armenians.

Armenians and Greeks are dying by the scores from exposure, fright and exhaustion. Ten thousand Italians and twelve thousand French were evacuated from the city yesterday.

The food stock have become exhausted and the people are eating horse-flesh. American relief workers distribute flour which the famished refugees devour raw.

Mr. Tiphu Kemal Pasha has requested the allies to permit his army to occupy Thrace, insisting that the Dardanelles question can be discussed later with all the Black Sea countries participating.

He declares it is vital the Nationalists occupy the territory in order

ALL MEN DEAD ON MORNING OF AUG. 28

California State Compensation Insurance Fund will pay an average of approximately $4,200 to dependents. The Argonaut Mining Company had insured its employees in the state fund. There is some need among relatives of some of the victims, however.

A revision of California Mining Safety Laws will be urged in the next legislature, according to Fletcher Hamilton, State Mineralogist. He said he thought it would be feasible to have independent exits and to have underground safety stations with a separate source of supply of air and supplies of food and water.

BODIES BROUGHT UP

(By the Associated Press)

Jackson, Cal., Sept. 19.—The first of the 47 bodies of the Argonaut gold mine disaster will be brought to the surface in the Kennedy mine after noon today. A crew of the United States Bureau of Mines in charge of Byron O. Pickard, district mining engineer of the bureau, went down the Kennedy shaft at 8 o'clock.

Members of the crew carried forty-pound oxygen breathing apparatus. Pickard said they would descend to the 3,000-foot level of the Kennedy, crawl through the two-foot hole made yesterday into the 4,300-foot level of the Argonaut and then go down deeper to the 4,350 level of the Argonaut where the bodies were found.

The procedure then will be to draw out gas and force fresh air into the Argonaut. Each body will be wrapped in canvas, loaded on a skid and pulled up one by one by compressed air power to the 4,200-foot level and then taken through the hole to the Kennedy for removal to the top. The laborious process will take about two hours for each of the bodies brought out.

Behind the third bulkhead on the 4,350-foot level of the Argonaut the 47 dead lie, many of them without clothing, which has been stuffed into the bulkheads in an effort to seal themselves against gas from the fire. Care will be taken by the working crew to preserve any marks of identification. This admittedly will be difficult, as the metal tags carried by the men were in most cases in removed clothing.

The date of the inquest has not been set by Mrs. Lola Potter, the coroner, who is an undertaker. Details of burial have not been arranged.

McGRATH WINS IN DIST. COURT

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 19.—O. McGrath becomes at least temporarily the chief game warden in the second district again. Mr. McGrath was removed over four months ago by the game and fish commission and W. F. Reko of Mandan appointed in his place.

Three weeks ago Judge Berry granted a temporary restraining order against Reko functioning as game warden and against the game and fish commission for interfering with McGrath in discharge of his duties. This injunction was made permanent by Judge Bush in Dickinson. It is likely an appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

William Langer, attorney for McGrath, is of the opinion that this order reinstates Mr. Monahan who was removed as chief game warden in the first district and other ousted employees of the game and fish commission.

Changes among the employees were made following appointment by Governor Nestos of new members to the game and fish commission.

DENIES CHARGE OF KIDNAPING, INVITES ARREST

Relying to announcement that a warrant had been issued in Morton county charging him with kidnaping a white Bismarck girl, Thomas Mann, negro and former resident of the city, replies through his wife with an invitation to the authorities to come and get him. They had reported they could not locate him.

Mrs. Mann, in a letter to The Tribune, said that she took the girl, and not her husband, because the girl begged to go with her. Regarding a report Mann had deserted his wife, she asserts the Dickinson police stole it. The girl, she says, is 17 years of age.

Her husband, she says is working north of Bellevue. Thomas Mann held a good reputation in Bismarck while working at various places. Tom Mann lives at his address, 3 South Fifteenth street, Dickinson.

bonus ought to provide the means of paying it and I was unable to suggest any plan other than that of a general sales tax. Such a plan was unacceptable to the congress, and the bill has been enacted without even a suggested means of meeting the cost. Indeed the cost is not definitely known, either for the immediate future or in the ultimate settlement. The treasury estimates, based on what seems the most likely exercise of the options, figures the direct cost at approximately $145,000,000 for 1923, $225,000,000 for 1924, $114,000,000 for 1925, $312,000,000 for 1926, making a total of $795,000,000 for the first four years of its operation and a total cost in excess of $4,000,000,000. No estimate of the large indirect cost ever has been made. The certificate plan sets up no reserve against the ultimate liability. The plan avoids any considerable direct outlay by the government, during the earlier years of the bill's proposed operations, but the loans on the certificates would be floated on the credit of the nation.

Back of Public Credit

"It is worth remembering that the public credit is founded on the popular belief in the defensibility of public expenditure as well as the government's ability to pay. Loans come from every rank in life, and our heavy tax burdens reach directly or indirectly every element in our citizenship. To add one sixth of the total sum of our public debt for a distribution among less than five millions out of one hundred and ten millions whether inspired by grateful sentiment or political expediency, would undermine the confidence on which our credit is built, and establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so."

"Our maturing promises to pay within the current fiscal year amount to approximately $4,000,000,000, most of which will have to be refunded. Within the next six years more than $10,000,000,000 of debt will mature and will have to be financed. These outstanding and maturing obligations are difficult enough to meet without the complication of added borrowings, everyone of which threatens higher interest and delays the adjustment to stable government financing and the diminution of Federal taxes to defensible cost of government."

President Harding's bonus veto message follows:

To the House of Representatives: Herewith is returned without approval H. R. 10, 874, a bill "to provide adjusted compensation for the veterans of the world war and for other purposes."

"With the avowed purpose of the bill to give expression of a nation's gratitude to those who served in its defense in the world war, I am in accord, but to its provision 'to not subordinate the United States never will cease to be grateful. It cannot and never will cease giving expression of that gratitude."

"In legislating for what is called adjusted compensation congress failed, first of all, to provide the revenue from which the bestowal is to be paid. Moreover, it establishes the very dangerous precedent of creating a treasury covenant to pay which puts a burden variously estimated between four and five billions, upon the American people, not to discharge an obligation, which the government always must pay, but to show a bonus which the soldiers themselves while serving in the world war, did not expect."

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE.

Thomas Meighan comes to the Eltinge Wednesday and Thursday in "If You Believe It, It's So." Judging from the critical reviews on the picture, it is classed as excellent. The story had been selected by the late George Loane Tucker to succeed "The Miracle Man." The wisdom of such a selection, is evident from the nature of the story, which deals with a city crook who seeks and finds reformation in the green country spaces. The story is convincing and highly entertaining. The star is superb, giving one of the greatest characterizations of his career. He has the apt support of such favorites as Pauline Stark, Theodore Roberts, Charles Ogle and Joseph J. Dowling. Thomas Meighan's recent appearance in "The Bachelor Daddy" won much praise from picture patrons and it is predicted that "If You Believe It, It's So," will afford fully as much entertainment and pleasure.

DYE STOCKINGS OR SWEATER IN DIAMOND DYES

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out bright, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BISMARCK

coming to the Capitol theater on Monday. It is Metro's "The Five Dollar Baby" with the charming Viola Dana in the stellar role. Irvin S. Cobb wrote the story, which appeared some time ago in the Saturday Evening Post.

Miss Dana's newest characterization is that of a miss who has been adopted as a foundling by a pawnbroker, with whom she has been left. She appears in the play first as a tomboy of thirteen, causing havoc among the children in New York's hettos, where the story has its setting. Later, she appears as a grown-up miss, with her boarding-school days behind her, and she promptly falls in love.

The life of the Ghetto is remarkably pictured in the photoplay. Harry Beaumont, who directed the picture, has introduced a number of types which provide much amusement.

Ralph Lewis appears as the Jewish pawnbroker in an exceptionally fine characterization. Others in the cast are John Harrow, Tom McGuire, Otto Hoffman, Arthur Rankin and Marjorie Maurice. Rex Taylor adapted the story for the screen. John Arnold was responsible for the photoplay.

GAS MASK NOT UNIVERSAL PROTECTOR

Washington.—The Army gas mask in its regular form, does NOT afford protection against all noxious gases. The gas mask laboratory of the United States Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh recently investigated the army type of mask to determine its fitness for use in work about smelters, blast furnaces or similar industrial operations, or possibly in mines. It also has tried to modify the mask for such use.

There are about 10,000 species of fish known.

New Guinea has an area equal to that of France and the British Isles combined.

PIONEERS WELCOME

Among Bismarck's guests today are many pioneers of western North Dakota, who have come to the city to be present during the celebration of the completion of the bridge. They will mingle with the pioneers of the city who will greet them, but there also will be a hospitable greeting from every citizen of Bismarck, young or old.
It should not be forgotten when viewing the accomplishment of modern engineering as represented by the new vehicular bridge across the Missouri that it was the courage of pioneers and their faith in the future of the Great Plains that has made possible the development of the community, and of the bridge itself.
There is a welcome extended by Bismarck to all visitors. They will find each store a welcome rest room, courteous and helpful information from all city residents, a regent which depicts the famous history of the region and represents the joint effort of two cities embracing nearly 15,000 people, and modern stores which will be open to them and permit them to combine the pleasures of the day with the business of fall shopping.

WOOD-ALCOHOL

Wayne Wheeler, head palbearer for John Barleycorn, says 35,000,000 gallons of wood-alcohol a year are used in American manufacturing. It is the only deadly poison easily obtained.

Wheeler, orating to the Chemical Association in New York City, urges the wood-alcohol makers to put "Poison" labels, with skull-and-crossbones, on every container of the liquid death.

More effective—and it will have to come in time—would be to make the sale of wood-alcohol in beverages punishable by imprisonment of hard labor for at least 20 years. The bootlegger who serves wood-alcohol commits premeditated murder.

LOCKED

Walter Newman, shell-shocked Canadian war veteran, sees a woman in an auto plunge over a cliff at Niagara Falls. The tragedy instantly restores his memory, which had been a blank.

Brain oddities like this make you wonder if dull people are alert and intelligent "underneath" in the subconscious.

All brains are potentially keen. Science some day will learn how to unlock the doors that imprison intelligence and keep it from asserting itself in earth-life.

A brain door is locked when a child says, sincerely, "I know the explanation but can't express it."

HATREDS

French artists vote overwhelmingly to permit German and Austrian artists again to exhibit their paintings in Paris salons. Firmin Gémier, France's leading actor-manager says art is international. He welcomes German performers back to Paris.

Hatred is dying out in Europe, you reflect.
Maybe so—among the people. But not among politicians. French government tells the League of Nations that she cannot reduce her army, now 690,000. However, that is more fear than hatred, though the two are psychological twins.

BUNK

Hindenburg, in a letter whitewashing the ex-kaiser's flight to Holland, refers to Bill as "Most Exalted, All Mightiest Kaiser, Most Gracious Kaiser, King and Lord."
This should appeal to any one with a sense of humor.

Fortunately, such adulation comes only from the extreme royalists, and then only occasionally. At the German radicals think of Bill is probably unprintable. Luckily, the radicals have the balance of power. There may be another monarch scheduled for Germany, but it will not be William Hohenzollern. He is through.

YOUTH

An 11-year-old youth in New York City confesses that he helped steal 20 autos.
Again the older generation will mutter, "What are our boys coming to?"

When discouraged about the crimes of youth, get grandpa to tell you about Jesse Pomeroy, "the boy with the pink eye," back in 1874.
While he's on the subject, grandpa will recall many "bad eggs" of his boyhood, including lads who had to "sop town." Boys on the average are not more criminal than years ago. There merely happens to be more of them. When population doubles, crime naturally doubles.

SCIENTIFIC CRIME

The latest tools of criminals are displayed in New York at the international conference of police.
Detectives seem most interested in apparatus used by "rope workers." With the skill of "human flies" this breed of crooks gets on a roof and climb down as many as 14 stories to commit robbery, using only their muscles and a clothesline.

Burglars now have a fad of carrying their tools in violin and banjo cases.
Electricity is being used widely by yegmen. Hooking to a light socket, they go through a safe door with electric drills. In blowing a safe, they even use an electric fuse-exploder.

Detective Boylan says the yegmen never have been able to perfect the use of acetylene torches for burning through steel vaults.
All around, the "scientific" tools of crime are disappointing to the curious. In the main they are crude, about the same as a decade ago, with nothing startling as in "maser mind" detective fiction.

Each professional criminal, the convened police say, has a characteristic style of work peculiar to himself.

For instance, if a window is broken noiselessly by plastering flypaper on it to prevent the crash of falling glass, the police know instantly that the crook is one of a score or so who specialize in this method.

Further, elimination is easy, for certain crooks work only on Saturday nights, at certain hours or only during storms.

Cocaine is the chief tool of the New York crook, says Detective Frank Quigley. He explains: "Anybody that goes crooked begins taking it to steady his nerves. If a man shows a yellow streak, his pals make him take a big sniff of cocaine before they will go out on a job with him. I don't believe a left burglary or any other dangerous crime has been pulled off in New York for years except after they have doped themselves to keep their nerves."

Crime and the drug traffic go hand-in-hand. To attack crime at its roots and paralyze its growth, stop drug traffic. That is the way, and police know it, but it's easier said than done. The job, however, is not impossible.

FOOD

The world's wheat crop this year will be a whooper, says Department of Agriculture. It will total 3,019,526,000 bushels. This is about 40,000,000 bushels less than last year, but it's 129,000,000 bushels more than the pre-war average.

Very important figures, to the wheat grower.
For the rest of us, it means that the world in 1923 will become calmer. That is, provided the food is distributed. Unrest does not go with a full stomach. When the mob overthrew the French monarchy, its cry was "Bread!"

MOVIES

Edward Svoboda, movie agent from Czechoslovakia, says in New York that his country has taken over all the large movie houses and is operating them for the benefit of charity.

Censors over there are tolerant with movies of bathing beauties, but they do prohibit prizefighting films, not wanting people to become interested in any kind of fighting. In many ways, this new country shows sound intelligence. Watch it.

VALENTINO

Does Rudolph Valentino really get a salary of $3000 a week as champion he-vamp of the movies? His attorney, Arthur Butler Gramham, says: "He's not getting anything like that; $5000 divided by three would be more like it."

While even $1000 a week seems like a fair salary to the average person, Dow Jones financial agency estimates that Henry Ford's income this year will be $75,000,000, or nearly 1500 times as much as Valentino.

HOPE

Eighty-seven years ago, President Jackson announced the extinction of the national debt.

Fifty-one years ago Congress repealed the income tax.

With these two precedents, and the rule that history always repeats, the glum can keep hope alive.

At any rate, there were at least two reasons for calling them "the good old days."

BUGS

Insects that destroy metal are honey-combing lead-covered cables connected with Panama canal locks. So you wonder what's the purpose of this?

Insects, like dirt, probably are sent to keep us busy and out of mischief. Can you imagine the devilry that would be raised if every one had all his time free, no work? Babylon!

READING

Soldiers in training camps "wore out" 7,000,000 books, says Carl H. Millam, secretary of American Library Association. He thinks that the habit of reading was greatly increased by the war, serious books as well as fiction. This might explain the big sale of works like Wells' "Outline of History," which would have been a little-used head-volume before the war.

Posibility exists that ours is the last big generation for writers. The movie may displace the magazine and novel, especially when movies are broadcasted by wireless.

CONVENIENCE

With Americans using a billion dollars' worth of ice every three years, a man with a shovel-type of brain digs up this interesting fact: The first artificial ice was not made until the last year of the Civil War.

As late as 1880, only 37 ice factories in the whole country. Now the ice plants number into the thousands and turn out over 30,000,000 tons of ice a year. Thousands of conveniences like ice, we take for granted, do not appreciate our comforts as compared with our ancestors. However, while we have more conveniences, we also have more discomforts.

EXECUTED

The London Times "hears from Riga" that the Chuka, Bolshevik punitive secret society, executed 1,766,118 people before it went out of existence last February.

Do you believe it? The figure is improbably large, for it is doubtful if all Bolsheviks combined could master enough work-spirit to bury that many political victims. Most news from Russia has to be discounted 90 per cent. Propagandists keep very busy, on both sides, otherwise they'd be out of jobs.

RAKE-OFF

Senator Borah, attacking the proposed $5,000,000 loan to Liberia, claims $1,000,000 of it would go to some New York bankers to pay Liberian obligations taken over by them at 10 cents on the dollar.

The quickest way to get to the truth of any big movement or national proposal is to find the answer to this question: Who gets the profits out of it? A selfish motive, somewhere, behind nearly everything.

STOCKS

Stock market continues climbing. Bull markets usually, but not always, run 20 months. This one has been going up since June, 1921. That is what lures shoestring investors.

They will be unloaded, wiped out, when the markets get high enough. Then the big fellows will buy in cheaply.
Buy when the market's low, sell when it is high, is the big investor's rule. Little plungers never learn.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

MR. BURNS SPRINGS AN OLD ONE

William J. Burns of the federal secret service has not been on the front page since his celebrated fake concerning the seizure of Wall Street bomb-plotters in Poland, hence it is gratifying to find that he is at the bottom of a raid on bouffant Communists in the Michigan woods which will doubtless prove of equal value as publicity and amount to about as much in serving the ends of justice.

This theory that a little group of Red radicals is likely to get together any time at a word from Lenin and seize the country right under the eyes of its unwary citizens began to wear thin and show through long before Mr. Burns' alleged government employ. Mitchell Palmer and Senator Lusk acted on it and got away with it at the height of a temporary hysteria which has since fortunately subsided. If Mr. Burns wants to go crazy on the subject at this late date he will have to do it all alone or in company no more convincing than that of the department of justice.

It would be quite safe to allow the Communist party to hold its annual convention in Bryant park or the town hall. The party ought to be welcome to all the converts it can make in the year 1923; it is good enough to start a local of the Ku Klux Klan while doing well. Communism is "busted" in this country, so is radical-baiting, and not all Mr. Burns' best efforts can bring them back.—New York World.

William Allen White gives up a large salary and quits as editor of Judge because Judge is too "wet" for him, and because principle means more to a "convinced and confirmed prohibitionist" than dollars do. Probably it means a little more to White because he feels for these United States a certain sincere devotion that goes deeper than bun and jest. Judge is the loser by the transaction.

Both of this country's humorous weeklies are most jocose when discussing prohibition. If what they have to say about it may be called discussion, and the most painful phase of prohibition in its ineptness is the joke stage. While this brand of humor is not so old nor so humorous as the drunken-man jokes of the saloon days, it still is very old and very thin stuff. Those who have been through it before as we all have in Kansas. The East doesn't understand this now but some day it will. It is when prohibition becomes something more than a subject for jest, as it does to one who has seen what it does to humans, that jesting about it seems such a sorry business. What the East needs is to take its prohibition seriously.—Capper's Weekly.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

WHEN Mr. Flippety-Flap strolled into the Fairy Queen's palace after coming all the way down from the Beamy-Glam Star, the Fairy Queen was in tears.

"Oh, Flippety-Flap, dear," she cried. "Terrible things have happened since Flap-Doodle stole my wand."

"Nancy and Nick are lost and can't be found, and all my beloved counselors have been turned into things. Tinkalings, a turtle, and Rabadab's beetle, Sprinkle-Blow is a rain-bow, and Scribble-Scratch is a lung, Leech Lizard. Oh, what shall I do?"

"Flippety-Flap looked very queer."

"Oh, I shouldn't feel so bad about it if I were you, your highness. Everything comes out all right in the end," he said.

As he spoke, he looked down meaningfully at the toes of his big shoes where two big patches were about ready to come off.

All at once they did fly off, and out popped Nancy from one shoe and Nick from the other one.

And in Nancy's hand was the long-lost wand!

"Oh, my dear, dear child!" cried the Queen hugging her close. "I was so afraid you were lost forever, both of you."

And she patted Nick proudly and said how he'd grown and how brave he was.

"And now you must sit down and tell me all about it," she said. "But first of all, give me my wand that I may turn all my beloved counselors back into fairies again." Then she waved it and said some magic words.

One by one Tinkaling and Rabadab and the others appeared looking as well as ever.

Then they all sat in a circle and heard the story of the Twins.

At the Flap-Doodle, he flew back to the Tinkling-Winkling Star by his wand and became a Tinkling-Winkling again.

TODAY'S WORD

Today's word is—PORTE.

It's pronounced—port.

It means—the government of the Turkish, or Ottoman, empire, called officially and in full "the Sublime Porte," from the name of the Sultan's palace gate at which justice was administered anciently.

It comes from—French "porte," gate or door.

It's used like this "At the Kerma Pasha's success against the Greeks, the favorable to Turkish arms, they are not necessarily favorable in the Sublime Porte, since the Kerma Pasha's ambitions are of a nature which the porte may not find it convenient to gratify."

FREIGHTERS IN PIONEER DAYS ARE DESCRIBED

Henry Blakely Recalls Interesting Incidents of Freight Traffic to Black Hills

WAS A BIG BUSINESS

Days of the gold rush to the Black Hills, are recalled in an interesting letter by Henry Blakely, freight traffic manager of the Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul. Mr. Blakely's letter follows:

"One of the incidents in the development of the west and which contributed to the prominence of Bismarck early in its existence was the discovery of gold in the Black Hills, and the necessity for the district being opened up for settlement and exploitation by the whites who could make use of the metal products."

"The first settlers went in from the south and from points further down the river but during 1876 a route was located and rights of travel from Bismarck to the Black Hills, and a company organized which opened up a stage, mail, express and freight service early in 1877. This concern was a corporation known as The Northwestern Express, Stage and Transportation Company, incorporated under the laws of the state of Minnesota. The general offices of the company were at St. Paul. The officers were Russell Blakely, President, N. P. Clark, Vice-President, C. W. Carpenter, Secretary, and Peter Sims, with title was a large stockholder and located at Bismarck, and actively supervised the freight branch of the service."

"The passenger, mail and express service was with teams of four horses, with vehicles commonly known as Concord Coaches accommodating nine passengers inside, with rack behind for baggage and space under the drivers seat for mail and packages. The body of the coach was hung on leather thoroughbraces and on a rough road the motion was similar to a small vessel in a very choppy sea."

"A messenger accompanied the stage through the entire trip of two hundred and fifty miles and at times when condition of the roads was bad would not get more than twelve hours layover before starting out again."

Service Daylight Only
"During the early period of operation the passenger service was daylight only, for fear that the Indians had not quieted down from the experiences of the Custer Massacre, and night trail was hazardous. For a short time there was a detachment from the 7th cavalry patrolling the road south of the Moreau River where the Indians usually crossed in moving between the Yellowstone country and the Agencies on the Missouri River."

"The stage stations on the line were all owned and operated by the company and were located usually in places where water was available, the distance between 14 and 21 miles. The names were of local derivation such as "Little Heart", "Shautapada", "Dog Tooth", "Cannon Ball", "Cedar River", "Grand River", "North Moreau", "South Moreau", "Whitney Springs", "Cedar Canyon", "Sulphur Creek", "Belle Fourche", etc."

"During the period of daylight trail the stage stations were Cedar River, South Moreau and Belle Fourche, and the express messengers were the following: Frank Kennedy, Paul Blum, Ed Seibold, John Hunter, Bill Linn, A. N. Carpenter, Scott Davis, Billy Sample, Billy Brewer, Cap. Willard, Benson and Shattuck. The superintendent of the Stage Service was W. J. Gidley."

Freight Most Important
The most important branch of this transportation service was freight hauled by wagon. The greater number of men, animals, and vehicles were so employed and the commodities handled ranged all the way from small locomotives to silk stockings."

"Mules, horses and oxen were all used in the freighting and the make-up of the outfit was anything from a pair of small mules and wagon to the standard plains freighting equipment of four pair of mules with two wagons, or ten yoke of oxen with three wagons "lead", "swing" and "trail."

"The small outfits were usually hired and the standard equipment owned by the company. The teams of various classes were grouped when on the road and termed wagon trains. The men were armed mainly for protection against Indians and it was quite necessary that there should be sufficient number to cover all requirements in case of attack."

"The time necessary for round trip by wagon train varied as the condition of roads was good or bad. The mule teams of the company under pressure got down as low as twenty days, but the oxen were nearer thirty-five days."

"The horses and mules required grain in addition to grazing to keep fit for work, but the oxen worked days and grazed night, under control of the night herders."

"The more prominent among the wagon masters were William Huxley, George Wilson, Jack McLean, Pete Martin, James Caughren, Tex Hempill and Jim Flynn."

"Among the hired outfits were those of Peter Larsen, E. Shields, Helene, Mont—Chief Justice Theodore Brantly, 71, of the Montana supreme court, died.

ALL-IMPORTANT PERIOD OF THE DAILY TRIBUNE RACE IS NOW ON

Final Week of Big Prize Distribution Starts And Friends of Candidates Will Volunteer Their Subscription Payments Now; Five Autos for Those Not Afraid of a Little Work in the Exciting Finish.

With the final close of the friendly competition less than five days away—Saturday, September 23, is the closing day—candidates of The Tribune's Automobile and Prize Campaign are throwing every ounce of energy into the quest for subscriptions. And just for that reason, just because many of those who have worked in a desultory way recently, have taken a new interest on account of the nearness of the end, and also because those who have done well have come to realize that they must protect their past efforts now, the time that remains between now and September 23 will see some of the hardest battling of the entire campaign.

Under the terms of the old extra offer of 150,000 votes on a club, candidates will not be slow to take full advantage of this last opportunity to climb with a rush to the top of the vote column. For they know that it contains all the elements necessary for their success.

Final Extra Vote Offer
Beginning today, Monday, September 18, up to and including Saturday, September 23, at 8 o'clock p. m., 150,000 extra will be allowed for every $30 worth of subscription payments. It will be well for candidate to map out a course of action right now which will get them the maximum results during the few remaining days, then by the time the present vote offer ends on Saturday night, they will have rolled up a total of votes which is most likely to warrant them the prize of their choice.

This campaign is rapidly drawing to a close and candidates should wake up and think of the many valuable prizes that are to be awarded. Such prizes are enough to fire the ambition of any candidate.

Victory Most Sweet
But then, too, ambition is more than a personal gain. In each and every candidate's heart is the ardent desire to win, for the sake of winning, and also to gain for themselves the cherished honor of winning one of the largest and best prizes—a motor car. And, victory is most sweet because it can be attained by personal effort.

It will be the proudest moment of your life when you are announced a winner of one of these great automobiles. But if the honor is to be conferred upon you, there can be no idle moments now. There is no time to be lost and in spite of everything you must progress. The little discomforts you may have had to endure on account of seasonal conditions are nothing compared with the multitude of joys that will be yours after you have won a motor car.

Some little time ago you made up your mind to get a car. You want that car just as much now, or more, than you did then. The time has come from this time on, will decide just how badly you want an automobile. You must go on; to stop now is to lose all that which you have thus far accomplished. Make up your mind you are going to win, or make the one who does win, go the limit.

Saturday Is Last Day
If you would have the confidence of those who have already helped you and those who are looking forward to your success, you should do your best from now on to the final close of the campaign, September 23. Whether you win that Hudson sedan or one of the four other motor cars depends on your work between now and Saturday, September 23. Believe me, there is no time to lose.

It is entirely up to you to make the most of these last, decisive, all-important days. Your whole community is watching to see what kind of a finish you will make. Don't disappoint them.

Griffin-Svendsgaard Marriage Vows Taken at Richholt Home

The marriage of Miss Irene Edna Blanche Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Griffin of Tacoma, Wash., and Arnold G. Svendsgaard, son of Mr. Zora Svendsgaard took place at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Richholt Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. S. F. Halford read the marriage services.

The nuptial vows were taken under an arch of ferns and asters in the living room in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the two families. Miss Florence Jager of Stansburg was bridesmaid and Lar A. Svendsgaard best man.

The bride wore a brown tulle gown with a corsage of Orphelia roses and sweet peas. The bridesmaid was dressed in a henna canton crepe frock and wore a corsage of roses and asters.

Miss August Peterson of Minneapolis, Minn., a cousin of the bridegroom, sang "I love You Truly" before the service. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. M. M. Stern of Skoveton, a sister of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Harris and son, Vincent of Lisbon, and Miss August Peterson of Minneapolis.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Svendsgaard are graduates of the local high school and have many friends in Bismarck. Mr. Svendsgaard has been employed at the Northern Pacific railroad for about five years past. He is at present ticket clerk in the passenger office.

After the marriage service a three course luncheon was served at the Richholt home. Places were laid for 39 wedding guests. Mr. and Mrs. Svendsgaard left on the evening train for the Pacific coast where they will spend their honeymoon. They will first visit San Francisco, Calif., and make the return trip by Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver, and other places where they will stop over. Mr. and Mrs. Svendsgaard will be at home to their friends after October 1 at 1009 Fifth Street.

The bride's bouquet was caught jointly by Misses Irene Pilmore and Ella Jager.

THE ELTINGE

May McAvoy demonstrates her versatility in "The Top of New York," her latest Paramount picture, in which she gives an impersonation entirely different from any in which she has yet been seen. She portrays this time a New York shop girl who lives in the tenements and finds romance on the rooftop, where New York's poor sleep in summer time.

While ministering to a sick brother, who she keeps on the roof much of the time even in winter, as she has heard patients of hospitals are kept, she finally finds her life problem satisfactorily solved, but not before many bitter experiences come to her.

"The top of New York" will show at the Eltinge theater today and tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday. Walter McGrain plays a opposite the star. A comedy and News pictures are also to be shown.

CAPITOL

Pauline Starke has the leading role in "My Wild Irish Rose," which will be shown at Capitol theater tonight. The production was directed by David Smith and is based on Dion Boucicault's famous play "The Shaughraun," which made a hit at Drury Lane theater in London and Wallack's theater in New York many years ago.

Pauline Starke has won an enviable reputation in some of the big pictures in which she has appeared, such as "Flower of the North," "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," "The Courage of Marge O'Doone," and "Salvation Nell."

"My Wild Irish Rose" calls for an Irish girl type which Mrs. Starke fills to perfection. Her beauty is of the Celtic type which has made the women of Ireland famous. The part of Conn, the shaughraun, is played by Pat O'Malley who possesses the typical Irish masculine comeliness, and has been featured with some of the greatest stars in the picture world.

STATE CLOSES DANCE HALL

Pursuant to the policy of the State Licensing Department, a dance hall at Logan, a small place near Minot, as been closed by the order of the State Licensing Department. Complaints had been made to the department that intoxicating liquor was consumed on the premises, that intoxicated persons visited the dance hall and remained on the premises, and that young girls of sixteen years, or even younger, came away from the place in an intoxicated condition.

Attorney General Sveinbjorn Johnson says that this policy has been followed, and will be continued in the future by his Department, and that licenses will be revoked in all places where dance halls are not conducted strictly within the law. The Department, he said, has been handicapped because of the inadequate provision in the law for control over country dance halls and barn dances outside of incorporated villages and cities.

Tree Casts Shadow Of Abraham Lincoln

(By the Associated Press) A stone's throw of the University of Kansas but probably unknown to the vast majority of students and townspeople is a curious natural phenomenon. It is an above ground formation of tree roots which, in the light of an arc street lamp, cast a shadow profile of Abraham Lincoln.

The likeness of the Great Emancipator is unmistakable. The bushy hair, high forehead, shaggy eyebrows, deep set eyes, prominent nose, thick lips, chin whiskers—all are faithfully reproduced in the shadow picture which is nearly twice life size.

Although the profile has appeared nightly for more than a decade, it has changed scarcely at all.

PARIS OPENING HINTS

Now comes the first of the Paris openings to show us what fashion has in store for fall and winter. A vance models, suggestions, predictions and forecasting we have had, but the first of the seasonal openings give us authentic information. All crepe weaves are still given great emphasis and velvet is much in evidence. Metal lace is very good for evening wear.

Skirtlines are slightly longer and waistlines slightly higher, but both these features are developed in the straight silhouette. Sleeves continue to be important, but they are narrower than they were.

For day time all the brown shades are the thing, while for evening mimosas, carrot red and other light shades are preferred.

SPECIAL FILM TO BE SHOWN

In connection with the Good Roads membership campaign to be shown this week, the State Good Roads Association has arranged with Capitol Theatre management to show as an added attraction the one-reel good roads picture entitled The Road of Yesterday and Tomorrow.

This picture is the one used to put over the $80,000,000 highway bond issue in Illinois during the war and later the $50,000,000 bond issued in Michigan. The film is now reduced to one-reel contains only the more select portions of the original picture.

It is pointed out however, that the Associations plan does not contemplate a bond issue, although the picture was used in that connection.

The film will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Capitol. A similar reel was expected to be shown at the Eltinge but arrangements to secure the same could not be made.

650 MILLION IS BUDGET SHORTAGE

Washington, Sept. 19.—Financial problems of the government were discussed for two hours today by President Harding and his cabinet. With a prospective shortage in revenue of about $650,000,000 for the next fiscal year, the executive was understood to have taken the position that the problem required "the garment to be cut anew."

The new budget was understood to have been brought into the discussion, but it was said that no decision had been reached, although Mr. Harding has let it be known that he would not send to congress recommendations for appropriations calling for more than $3,198,000,000 the estimated total revenues for the next fiscal year.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Strength
Union Village, Vt.—"I was weak and nervous and all run-down. I could not walk across the floor without resting and I had been that way for weeks. I saw your advertisement in the paper and after taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt the good it was doing me and I took seven more in all. Before I finished I was able to work nine hours a day in a steam laundry. I cannot say too much in favor of your medicine. I trust all sick and suffering women will take it. It has been two years since I took it and I am strong and well."

YANKEES WIN OVER BROWNS; SCORE 3 TO 2

Heart Breaking Defeat For Dixie Davis Who Out Pitches "Joe" Bush

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 19.—Whitney Witt, victim of a no-bottle thrown from the bleachers in the first game of the crucial series between New York and St. Louis Americans, was the hero of the Yankees' sensational ninth inning victory in the third contest. Witt's single drove McNally and Scott across with the runs that spelled defeat for the Browns, 3 to 2, and gave the Gothamites a margin of a game and a half as they started their series with Detroit today.

It was a heart breaking defeat for Dixie Davis, who had out-pitched Joe Bush of the Yankees, leading American League twirler, for eight innings, and a crushing blow to the pennant hopes of the Browns. Misplays by McManus and Severid at critical junctures in the eighth and ninth were factors in the St. Louis downfall.

Failed to Connect.
George Sisler, the Browns' great first sacker, ended his consecutive hitting streak, failing to connect safely four times at bat against Bush, but now holds the modern mark of 1 game, one better than Ty Cobb's old record.

But while the Georgia Peach was losing one laurel wreath to Sisler, he accumulated another by pounding out his 200th hit of the season as the Tigers trounced Washington, 11 to 5. It was the eighth year of his career in which he has reached the two century mark and ties the major league record held by Willie Keeler of the old Baltimore Orioles.

Climb, Another Notch.
The Giants, meanwhile, climbed another notch nearer the National league championship by taking the last game of the series from Cincinnati, 7 to 2, while Pittsburgh was breaking even with Philadelphia in a doubleheader winning the first, 11 to 3, but dropping the second, 5 to 2.

The world's champions face the Pirates at the Polo grounds tomorrow in the last of three games with the lead of six full games. They need to win but seven of their thirteen games to clinch the title, even if Pittsburgh capture all its eleven contests.

Although driven from the box in the ninth, Eddie Rummel, Connie Mack's mound ace, twirled his second victory for the Athletics over Cleveland in three days, 4 to 3. Levetto of Chicago, blanked the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 0, in the other American league contest.

A five run rally in the fourth gave St. Louis five runs, enough to defeat the Boston Braves, 4 to 2, while Vance of Brooklyn, was beaten by Chicago, 4 to 3, after having won five straight previously from the Cubs.

NEW COLLEGE CONFERENCE GETS ACTION

Two North Dakota Institutions Are Reported in Organization

With most of the college teams of the country in action or getting into action in a few days, attention in the Northwest is turned to the first years play of the newly formed North Central Intercollegiate Conference. While the actual organization of the conference was so late that most of the years scheduled were formed, most of the teams have games which will show their relative standing with the possible exception of Des Moines University, which school entered the conference at a late meeting.

South Dakota state is the first school to have its supporters claim that it will be the champion at the end of the season beginning in two weeks. Creighton, St. Thomas and North Dakota are credited in this claim as being the team the Brookings team will have to defeat with the South Dakota University as a possibility. None of the other schools have made a claim as to the place they will occupy when the season is ended.

The school in the new conference are:

- University of North Dakota at Grand Forks.
- University of South Dakota at Vermillion.
- North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo.
- South Dakota State College at Brookings.
- St. Thomas College at St. Paul.
- Creighton University at Omaha.
- Morningside College at Sioux City.
- Des Moines University at Des Moines.

The first games to be played, as announced in the early schedules will be September 30th. The first game between members of the conference as slated for October 7th when South Dakota State and St. Thomas meet at Brookings. The next game is that between the Universities of South and North Dakota, played this year at Vermillion. North Dakota University also ap-

SIZE OF PARKS MAY COUNT In World Series of 1922

HORNSBY AND WILLIAMS

By Billy Evans
THE world series will be with us soon.

It will be played either in St. Louis or New York, or possibly both places, unless present indications fail.

What part does a ball park's size play in a short series of seven games?

That is rather an interesting question, if the series is to be staged in St. Louis or New York or both.

It is well known that the Polo Grounds in New York and Sportsman's Park in St. Louis have a curved in the next game on October 21st when in its homecoming game, it meets the South Dakota State College team at Grand Forks.

Two conference games are scheduled for October 28th when the University of North Dakota meets St. Thomas at Grand Forks while the two South Dakota members, the University and the State College settle their state affair at Brookings.

tailed playing field. Lazy fly balls that would be easy outs on many major league parks drop into the stands in New York and St. Louis for rather tainted home runs.

The short playing field at the Polo Grounds did not play a part in the outcome of the 1921 series. However, it has played a prominent part in other world series staged there.

Not so many years ago a two or three-run lead in a world series would have been considered a commanding margin to work on. With a lively ball and a short fence, a four-run lead doesn't mean a thing in a modern major league game. It can be wiped out in a jiffy.

A majority of the home runs made by the St. Louis players have been accumulated on their own grounds. The short right field fence in St. Louis has been a great target for Ken Williams of the Browns.

Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals, a right-handed hitter, also has dropped many a ball into the right field section. Incidentally, Hornsby has shot a number into the left field stands, which are a bit farther away.

VISITORS WIN TENNIS HONORS IN TOURNAMENT

Sprecher of New Leipzig and Wernli of Hazen Are Tennis Champions

O. D. Sprecher of New Leipzig won the championship in the Missouri Slope tennis singles and Frank P. Wernli of Hazen was victorious in the Western North Dakota singles, in the double tournaments concluded at the Country club here last evening. Sprecher defeated W. P. Baird of Mandan and Wernli beat John Heints of Raleigh. Wernli last year tied with Henry Lewis for the championship.

Results in the doubles in the three-day tournament were: Missouri Slope—John Heints and O. D. Sprecher defeated N. M. and N. L. Daffinrud of Hazen.

Western N. D.—John Heints and O. D. Sprecher defeated R. M. Harmon and F. P. Wernli of Hazen.

There were no women events, there being no entries, but the competition was keen in the men's events, the courts being occupied from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. almost constantly for three days. There were 24 players, 12 of whom were from other cities.

The annual Bismarck city tennis tournament, conducted under the auspices of the tennis committee of the Country club, will start probably on Saturday. Entries may be made by non-members of the club and should be made to G. H. Russ Jr. immediately.

NOTICE AND CITATION, HEARING OF FINAL ACCOUNT AND DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE

STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, County of Burleigh—ss. In County Court, Before Hon. I. C. Davies, Judge.

In the matter of the estate of Charles Arthur Rapp, Deceased.

George M. Register, Petitioner, vs. Almada M. Hawthorne, otherwise known as Mrs. J. M. Hawthorne, Florence E. Long, otherwise known as Mrs. J. E. Long, Elmer Rapp, George E. Rapp, otherwise known as G. E. Rapp, Maurice E. DeWitt, Wendell E. DeWitt, a minor, Kenneth W. DeWitt, a minor, the sole heirs of Gertrude DeWitt, formerly Gertrude Rapp, deceased, and T. E. Jackson, the special guardian of said Wendell E. DeWitt, a minor, and said Kenneth W. DeWitt, a minor, Respondents.

The State of North Dakota to the above named Respondents:

You, the said respondents are hereby notified that the final account of George M. Register, the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Charles Arthur Rapp, late of the city of Great Falls and State of Montana, deceased, has been returned to this Court, wherein showing that the estate of said deceased is ready for final settlement and distribution, and petitioning that his account be allowed, the residue of said estate be distributed to the persons thereto entitled, his administration closed and he be discharged; that Tuesday, the 31st day of October, A. D. 1922, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the court house in the City of Bismarck, County of Burleigh, and State of North Dakota, has been duly appointed by this Court for the settlement thereof, at which time and place any person interested in said estate may appear and file his exceptions, in writing, to said account, and petition and contest the same.

And you, the above named respondents, and each of you, are hereby cited and required then and there to be and appear before this Court, and show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed, the residue of said estate distributed, the administration of said estate closed and said administrator be discharged.

Dated the 7th day of September A. D. 1922.

By the Court:

HORNSBY HAS NEW RIVAL IN BATTING RACE

Jimmy Tierney, Pirates Second Baseman Is Making A Strong Bid

SISLER OUT OF GAME

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who a few weeks ago appeared to have the batting champion hip of the National League tucked in his hip pocket, today has cause for worry over the prospects of bagging the 1922 home run title.

The Pirates' state second baseman has been traveling at such a hot pace with the willow and that he is only fifteen points behind the St. Louis "avoids and, with the close of the season on three weeks away, may become a dangerous contender.

Hornsby, however, is leading the regulars with an average of .397, and has increased his home record from thirty-five, having bagged one four-bagger during the past week.

The Pirates in their race to overtake the Giants are out in front in team batting with an average of .311. The Giants are sitting .308, while the Cardinals are third with .302.

Other leading hitters for 100 or more games:

Giants, Chicago, .363; Bibbee, Pittsburgh, .350; Miller, Chicago, .349; Hollocher, Chicago, .345; Daubert, Cincinnati, .343; Harper, Cincinnati, .341; Pittsburgh, .338; Kelly, New York, .335; Duncan, Cincinnati, .335.

The injury to George Sisler has cast a gloom not only over St. Louis but in thousands of other cities and where the fans have been pining for the Browns to win the American League pennant. The Browns were going in their race against New York in theizzling race for the flag but the unfortunate injury to the St. Louis phenom has thrown a wrench into the working of the team. Sisler, however, declared his intention of getting back into the lineup, despite the fact that his physician said he would have to rest a week or more and probably would be unable to play again this season.

If Sisler is not able to get back in the game his batting average of .421 appears to be high enough to insure his position as leading hitter for the 1922 season. His closest rival, Ty Cobb, is thirty-one points behind, and the chances of his catching up are remote. Cobb's average is .397. Sisler has the edge for stolen base honors with forty-seven, with Kenneth Williams a team-mate tagging along with thirty-three.

Other leading hitters for 100 or more games: Speck, Cleveland, .375; Heilmann, Detroit, .357; Schang, New York, .337; Tobin, St. Louis, .334; Galloway, Philadelphia, .331; Pipp, New York, .331; Bassler, Detroit, .328; Williams, St. Louis, .327; Veach, Detroit, .326; Miller, Philadelphia, .326.

Beals Becker, outfielder with the Kansas City club, is the new challenger for the batting championship of the American Association. Becker, in his last eight games, connected with sixteen hits, which shot him from fourth to second place, just three points behind Myatt of Milwaukee, who is leading with an average of .367.

Other leading hitters for the ninety-five or more games: Lear, Milwaukee, .354; Brown, Indianapolis, .351; Combs, Louisville, .350; Lamar, Toledo, .349; Mathews, Milwaukee, .347; Innes, St. Paul, .339; Brief, Kansas City, .339.

'LITTLE WORLD' SERIES CONTEST ENDS TODAY

Joe Bush and Van Gilder May Be on Mound—Ruth and Williams Star

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—Hub Pruett's southpaw fade away succeeded where Urban Shocker's veteran pitching art failed and the batting St. Louis Browns were back today within a half game of the top as a result of their five to one victory over New York in the second game of the "little world's series." The final contest will be played today with Joe Bush, Huggins' premier mound ace, and possibly Van Gilder, who turned in a brilliant game against Boston last week, as the pitching opponents.

Ken Williams of the Browns, and Babe Ruth of the Yankees both demonstrated their favorite art in the second game, the former slashing out his 38th homer to break a tie for the major league lead with Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, while Babe bused his thirty-third George Sisler added another laurel wreath to his collection by hitting safely in his forty-first consecutive game, breaking Ty Cobb's modern mark of forty, set in 1911.

The Giants lost to Cincinnati, 4 to 3, in a battle of South paws, Nehf and Rixey, and dropped a half game of their six game margin over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who were idle. If the Giants win half of their 14 contests, the Pirates must take all of their 13 to annex the pennant.

Osborn held the Dodgers and Chicago defeated Brooklyn 6 to 2, in the only other National league game scheduled.

DICKINSON HAS A GOOD SQUAD

Dekinson, N. D., Sept. 18.—Because of the inclement weather which has held up practice during the past week Coach W. Williamson cancelled the first game scheduled with training school.

The complete schedule for the season has now been arranged by Coach Williamson with the Hettlinger high school aggregation scheduled to come for the first game on Friday, September 22, instead of the tentative game with Marmarth as announced last week. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

The corrected schedule follows:
September 22—Hettlinger, here.
September 29—Glenfield, there.
October 5—Williston, here.
October 13—Bismarck, there.
October 20—Mandan, here.
October 28—Beach, there.

More than 40 athletes, anxious to make places on the team, have turned out for practice whenever the weather has permitted during the past week and indications are that Dickinson high school will have the strongest lineup in many years.

At 12 Feet

A. Reish, Detroit, scores a spectacular leap, clearing the bar at 12 feet at the A. A. U. meet at Yeeagah Park, Newark, N. J.

To Former Employees of the Northern Pacific Railway Company Now on Strike:

This morning's edition of the Minneapolis Tribune gives an account of an address delivered by Mr. R. A. Henning at a meeting of railway men at the assembly room of the Minneapolis court house last evening from which we quote the following: "The conference also has given information that the Burlington road was willing to subscribe to the agreement provided the Great Northern and Northern Pacific came along."

I called Mr. Donnelly president of the Northern Pacific over long distance phone, but he said under no circumstances would he submit.

I gave this information to B. M. Jewell head of the American Federation of Labor.

Shortly afterwards we received information from the east that there was a possibility of both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern signing up before the 15 day limit provided in the agreement each received.

In the negotiations I have had with Mr. Henning since this strike began I have not known of any instance in which he has told an untruth and therefore I assume that he did receive the information which in the passage above quoted, he says we received, "From the East," who gave it he does not say nor do I know or even suspect certainly no one having authority to speak for the Northern Pacific gave it and my purpose in addressing this communication to you is to say to you directly that whoever gave it, the information is incorrect. There is not the remotest possibility that the Northern Pacific will accept the proposed basis of settlement within 15 days or at any time. I say this regretfully because the management would be glad to see restored to their former position all of our former employes, excepting a few who have disregarded all rules for conducting fairly a struggle such as that in which we are engaged.

It was this desire which moved us to keep your places open until long after other lines had begun to employ new men, and it was the same desire which occasioned our participation in the settlement negotiations in New York three weeks ago.

All of our efforts failed because your leaders declined in July and again in August to accept a settlement at least as favorable to you as the settlement which they accepted in Chicago last Wednesday and it is to me a matter of deep regret that what we were able and willing to do in July and again in August we can not do now without sacrificing men whose fidelity to use has given them the right to expect that we will not betray them.

League Committee Session Continues

(By the Associated Press)
Fargo, N. D., Sept. 18.—Filling of the Nonpartisan league ticket, the business that called the league's "committee of 15" into session at Jamestown last Friday evening, with a continuance of the committee's session in Fargo on Saturday has not been completed, it was announced at league headquarters here this afternoon.

Two additional candidates: E. A. Bowman of Kulm for Lieutenant Governor, and Herbert Hard of Fargo for Secretary of State, have been put into the field, the announcement said, but other vacancies are yet unfilled.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

(By the Associated Press)
Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 18.—Marshall Hobbs of Sioux Falls, was shot and seriously wounded yesterday while hunting with a party of friends near Wentworth, S. D. The young man received a full charge of buckshot in the back, fired by a hunter from the other side of a slough which Hobbs was shooting. He was rushed to the hospital at Madison, S. D., where it was said that he would live.

40-BUSHEL MARQUIS YIELD.

Bottineau, N. D.—The best wheat crop yield reported thus far in Bottineau county comes from L. J. Dorr, residing just north of South, whose 200 acres of Marquis wheat yielded 40 bushels an acre. Mr. Dorr, who has a large acreage of wheat, states that his entire crop of several hundred acres, averaged approximately 32 bushels an acre.

To Former Employees of the Northern Pacific Railway Company Now on Strike:

This morning's edition of the Minneapolis Tribune gives an account of an address delivered by Mr. R. A. Henning at a meeting of railway men at the assembly room of the Minneapolis court house last evening from which we quote the following: "The conference also has given information that the Burlington road was willing to subscribe to the agreement provided the Great Northern and Northern Pacific came along."

I called Mr. Donnelly president of the Northern Pacific over long distance phone, but he said under no circumstances would he submit.

I gave this information to B. M. Jewell head of the American Federation of Labor.

Shortly afterwards we received information from the east that there was a possibility of both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern signing up before the 15 day limit provided in the agreement each received.

In the negotiations I have had with Mr. Henning since this strike began I have not known of any instance in which he has told an untruth and therefore I assume that he did receive the information which in the passage above quoted, he says we received, "From the East," who gave it he does not say nor do I know or even suspect certainly no one having authority to speak for the Northern Pacific gave it and my purpose in addressing this communication to you is to say to you directly that whoever gave it, the information is incorrect. There is not the remotest possibility that the Northern Pacific will accept the proposed basis of settlement within 15 days or at any time. I say this regretfully because the management would be glad to see restored to their former position all of our former employes, excepting a few who have disregarded all rules for conducting fairly a struggle such as that in which we are engaged.

It was this desire which moved us to keep your places open until long after other lines had begun to employ new men, and it was the same desire which occasioned our participation in the settlement negotiations in New York three weeks ago.

All of our efforts failed because your leaders declined in July and again in August to accept a settlement at least as favorable to you as the settlement which they accepted in Chicago last Wednesday and it is to me a matter of deep regret that what we were able and willing to do in July and again in August we can not do now without sacrificing men whose fidelity to use has given them the right to expect that we will not betray them.

News of the Markets

WAR NEWS PUTS WHEAT AHEAD OVER 4 CENTS

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—War news resulted in a spectacular advance today in the wheat market. Prices made a sudden jump of more than four cents a bushel in the early dealings, and the market showed broad activity. Big purchases of Canadian wheat for shipment to Europe were reported. Speculative traders who have been persistent sellers of late became urgent buyers. The opening which varied from 1/2 to 1/4 higher, with December $1.02 1/2 @ $1.03 1/2 and May $1.06 1/2 @ $1.07 1/2, followed by a rise which was unchecked until December touched $1.06 after which something of a reaction ensued.
Corn and oats went upward with wheat. After opening 1/4 to 1/2 higher, December 57 1/2 to 58 1/2, the corn market scored moderate additional gains.
Oats started 1/4 to 1/2, December 35 1/2 to 36, and later continued to ascend.
Provisions shared the tendency of grains toward higher prices.
Prices advanced rapidly in subsequent dealings, going up nearly six cents above Saturday's finish. As war news grew more ominous, towards the last, however, profit taking caused a moderate downward reaction. The close was unsettled, at 1/2 to 1/4 net gain, December 21 1/2 to 21 3/4, and May 21 1/2 to 21 3/4.
Notwithstanding large receipts, commission house demand was active, selling scattered. The market closed unsettled, 1/4 to 1/2 net higher; December 57 1/2 to 58 1/2.

"Fear of War Unwisdom."
London.—"When we come to analyze the situation closely we find that the fear of war is the beginning of unwisdom," said Lord Robert Cecil recently discussing conditions in Europe. "Russia's apprehensions have been translated into vast armaments withdrawn from reproductive work, and consequently a greater men to their friends, or follow-up tension than to their enemies."

NEWS OF WALL STREET

(By the Associated Press)
New York, Sept. 18.—Bear traders launched a heavy attack against the entire list at the opening of today's stock market session. Railroad, steel, equipment, tobacco and oil shares were particularly hard hit. Early losses ranging from 1 to 3 points. Breaking off of negotiations between the New York Central and the striking shopmen was held partly responsible for the settling of rail shares, losses of a point or more being caused by Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Lackawanna. United States Steel common, Gulf Steel and Vanadium each declined a point or more, as did Baldwin, American Tobacco, United Retail Stores, Corn Products, United States Realty and National Enameling. The closing of the Ford plant was regarded as a contributing factor in the weakness of Studebaker, which fell nearly two points. Oils were freely offered, losses of 1 to 2 points being registered by Standard Oil of New Jersey and California, Mexican Petroleum, Condon and Royal Dutch, New York Air Brake moved against the downward current, rising one point to a new high record.
Indications that pools were trying to combine to assemble a market, accelerated the decline as the morning progressed. Losses of 2 to 4 points were sustained before noon by Consolidated Gas, Studebaker, North American, Crucible Steel, Gulf Steel, Bethlehem A. Iron Products, Union Tank, preferred, Postum Cereal, preferred, Twin City Rapid Transit, Barnsdall A. Standard Oil of California, Royal Dutch and Mexican Petroleum, rails offered a little more stubborn resistance to selling pressure, the losses ranging from large fractions to 1 1/2 points. Short covering and a bidding up of Texas Gulf Sulphur to a new high steadied the market toward midday and fractional rallies resulted in several parts of the list. Call money opened at 4 percent.
The battering tactics of the bears uncovered a mass of stop loss orders and prices broke precipitately in spots when these were executed. The bulls were dismayed by the abruptness with which prices fell away and there was a rush to save some of the profits on recent purchases which added immeasurably to the volume of stocks pressing on the market. Nearly all of the well known shares were quoted anywhere from 2 to 3 points under Saturday's closing.

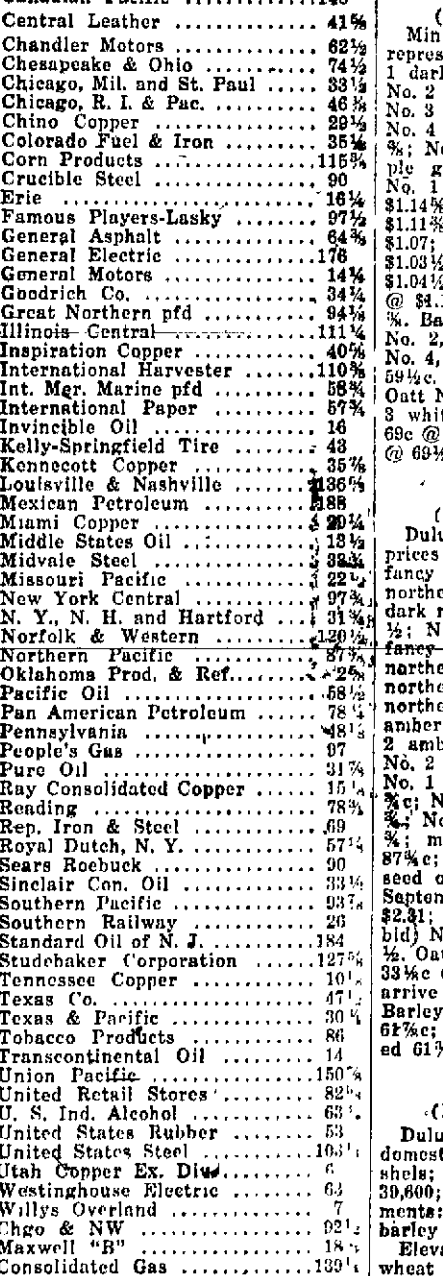

MARKET UNSETTLED

(By the Associated Press)
Minneapolis, Sept. 18.—The cash market was decidedly unsettled today after a little early trading at unchanged premiums, buyers began to hold off for a decline because of the very sharp advance in the futures. Most of the good wheat was disposed of at unchanged comparative prices.
Dum wheat was about the same early and held so through the session if the quality was good.
Winter wheat was slow and weak from the start.
Corn opened steady compared with figures and there was fair demand early, but it was easily satisfied and late bids were weak. Oats demand was somewhat improved. Rye demand was better with shippers showing more interest. Barley receipts were heavy, but a strong general demand prevailed and prices were about 2c higher on the average. Lower grades

DAIRYING IS STATE'S HOPE SAYSSPEAKER

Representative of National Dairy Show Urges Attendance at Exposition

SMALL GRAIN FAILURE

North Dakota should wake up to the saving grace of dairying as a preventive of constant depressions here, it is too late. She should take notice that it was the dairy cow that saved Wisconsin from soil and financial bankruptcy and converted Minnesota from a state of financial failure to a state of permanent prosperity, and proved how to follow suit," said Donald Despain of St. Paul, speaking to an audience of several hundred people at the conclusion of the band concert at Fourth and Broadway yesterday afternoon. Mr. Despain, who represents the National Dairy Exposition to be given in St. Paul, speaks today in Mandan.

Introduced by Dairy Commissioner Flint, Mr. Despain presented strong arguments in favor of dairying and urged attendance of farmers and merchants at the big National Dairy Exposition at St. Paul, October 7 to 14. Mr. Despain said in part: "I am not here to talk politics but if I were I would submit to you a platform consisting of but one sentence if seven words which if put into execution would give you more genuine prosperity than all the legislation talked about at Washington, Bismarck and all the other capitals in America, and that platform is—'Put a dairy herd on every farm.'"

Submits Evidence
"Let me submit some evidence of what this platform would do. Twenty years ago Todd County, Minnesota was in the depths of financial trouble. That isn't very long ago—Bryan was still running for President. You know Todd county had been small-grained to death, poor crops, small yields, not a creamery or silo in the county and total bank deposits of only $145,000. They turned to the dairy cow for salvation. She responded as she always has whenever called upon. Today Todd county has over 300 silos, over 20 creameries and deposits of over six million dollars. Lands that went begging at $25 per acre are in demand at over $100 per acre today. I could cite a score of examples like this in Minnesota and Wisconsin. You men can bring about the same transformation right here in North Dakota if you will put into action the same determination that the early pioneers displayed here in over-coming obstacles beside which your troubles today are nothing."

Must Include Cow
"You are not going to have real prosperity here until you put the dairy cow into your farm program. Think of it, men, the only crop producer giving you twelve crops per year—a cream check every month. You beef men, please compare the beef animal that gives you just one single check of $75 when it goes to the packing house with the dairy cow that gives you that check twelve months in the year and year after year."

"You ask, how are you going to get into the dairy business? The first, biggest and most important step is to attend the National Dairy Exposition at St. Paul in October. If you were going to equip yourself for some line of business or profession you would go through a schooling to get that education wouldn't you? The National Dairy Exposition offers you the opportunity to learn more about dairying in one week than you can any other way in years. You can go there and see the million dollar dairy cattle exhibit—the flower of American cattle, you can talk with men who have reached independence and wealth with the cow and find out how they did it. You can get all the why, how, when and wherefore of the dairy business from men and experts who know from real, practical experience. You will see the greatest exhibit of dairy machinery ever displayed. For the first time in the history of the exposition you will see hundreds of good grade cows, the high quality, medium priced cow that permits you to grow into the dairy business in a practical, profitable way and with moderate finances."

DEATH FOLLOWS FALL
Minot, N. D., Sept. 19.—John P. Wallace, Minot, fell from the top of a stairway last evening, death following. The body dropped two stories in basement stairway.

There are 5,000 varieties of dahlias now on the market.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About The Results in Bismarck

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Bismarck citizen can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had? N. M. Danrot, carpenter, 511-7th St. N. Bismarck, says: "Some years ago I had a bad spell of kidney trouble. My back never let up aching for several weeks and my kidneys were in bad shape and the secretions contained sediment. I felt all worn out and took several boxes of Dean's Kidney Pills and they did just as represented. After a day's treatment I was rid of the trouble. I have previously recommended Dean's and I am glad to again give my endorsement." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't don't ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Danrot had. Foster-McLain Co., Mrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Mary Harrington, of Reno, Nev., was picked as a representative of Western womanhood to travel 3000 miles to Washington and invite President Harding to the Reno Round-Up. She presented the executive with a 10-gallon cowboy hat.

AGAIN ATTACK AFFIDAVITS

Labor Leaders' Lawyers Assault Mass of Evidence

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 19.—Renewed attacks on the mass of affidavits submitted by Attorney General Daugherty's representatives in their fight for a temporary injunction against officials of the railway employees department, American Federation of Labor, were resumed today by the defense attorneys in Judge James H. Wilkerson's court.
Hardly an affidavit of the number the defense announced they had time to study since their admission in court escaped the criticism of Frank L. Mulholland, defense attorney who led the attack on the government's case.
Defense attorneys today were elated over the ruling made yesterday by Judge Wilkerson by which more than one-fourth of the government's affidavits, while being allowed to remain in the record, will not be considered in deciding the case.
Objections today in most cases were based on the fact that many affidavits contained hearsay evidence and did not name or in any way connect the defendants with acts and crimes described.
Of more than 500 affidavits examined, defense attorneys said they found only eight in which the defendants are named. Almost half of the affidavits are still to be examined.

PIONEERS BACK TELL STORIES OF OLDEN DAYS

Party of Minnesota Men, Real Pioneers in Western North Dakota, Visit City

MONTANA MAN VISITOR

The Deadwood stage coach hold-up depicted in the historical pageant will bring back poignant memories to C. S. Benson of Minneapolis, one of the many out-of-town visitors here for the celebration. For Mr. Benson was held up while a messenger on the old stage coach line.
It was in 1889 that Mr. Benson first prospected in this region, but west of Bismarck at the mouth of the Yellowstone. He went to the Black Hills in 1877 seeking gold. He was a messenger on the old stage coach line. He and Paul Plumb were on the stage when held up by road agents just east of South Moreau. He remembers the date very vividly. It was August 8, 1877. Mr. Benson got a description of them and worked with Seth Bullock, Roosevelt's old pal, for three weeks. The road agents were located.
"Were they convicted?" Mr. Benson was asked.
"No, they convicted me," he replied laughing. "They brought up 50 men to back a wonderful alibi and told me to get out of the country—but I didn't."
Connected with Coach Line
Peter Martin of St. Cloud, Minn., one of the first men connected with the old stage line, also was a visitor here. Mr. Martin drove a stage from Jamestown here twice a week in 1875. The stage stopped at the Grifin hotel. He said he remembered Custer going down with him on the stage in the fall and coming back in the spring. Mr. Martin also freighted to the Black Hills. In the fall of '80 the stage line terminal was moved from Bismarck to Pierre, S. D., a railroad line to Pierre making that point closer than Bismarck. Mr. Martin engaged in railroading for many years.
John Coates of St. Cloud, another of the party, came here with the Sibley expedition in 1863, and was in the Battle of Big Mound, which he said was about 40 miles east of Bismarck. He was a member of the First Minnesota Cavalry, Company D. Lieut. Freeman, who was killed southeast of the city by Indians, was first lieutenant of Mr. Coates' company. Mr. Coates expected to make a trip to the old ride pits on Apple Creek with Wm. A. Falconer. Mr. Coates told of an incident when he was on guard at the camp. An Indian pack dog came running through the camp. One of the men

More Proof of the Supremacy of Kota Wheat

THE DAKOTA FARMER

In an article appearing in the Dakota Farmer September first, an authoritative writer says, in part: "Since common wheats are generally so susceptible to rust it might have been supposed that Kota, being a common wheat, might tend to succumb during a severe rust outbreak. As a matter of fact, data so far gathered indicate that Kota shows generally as much or more rust resistance than the three strongly resistant durumms, D-5, Monad and Acme. At certain points, at Fargo for instance, Kota has shown decidedly more resistance to stem rust than D-5, the two wheats being grown side by side, under identical conditions."

"This completes the fifth season that Kota wheat has been under intensive observations so far as its relations to rust resistance are concerned. It has upheld its early promise in a very remarkable manner."

"To one like myself who has been studying the subject the outlook for wheat growing in the spring wheat regions from the standpoint of rust epidemics is extremely encouraging. Even if the elimination of the barberry should have a negative effect upon the rust problem, the growing of rust resistant durumms, and the rust resistant Kota wheat would, I believe, solve the problem in itself. * * * When one considers the remarkably high technical value of Kota wheat, in milling and baking, in connection with its remarkable rust resistant capacity, it appears that the North Dakota Experimental Station is handing to the farmers of the hard spring wheat belt, and to the wheat consumers of the world, a whole plateful instead of a mere taste."

WALTER R. REED

Mr. Walter R. Reed, President of the America Sharon Land Co., and a member of the Executive Committee of the N. D. Farm Bureau Federation, said: "Rust epidemics have become so frequent and cause such great damage that North Dakota's only hope for future prosperity from wheat growing is to grow a variety which will resist stem rust. Kota wheat has repeatedly demonstrated that it is highly resistant to stem rust and it appears to equal Marquis as a milling and baking wheat, so it will undoubtedly be adopted as the future standard bread wheat of the Northwest."

If you haven't received our descriptive folder containing Kota's official record, ask for a copy. A real opportunity, awaits you—buy Kota wheat, become a member of this organization, and market your crops for seed for the next two or three years.

WAR MARKET FOR WHEAT IS DEVELOPED

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 18.—An out and out war market developed today in the wheat trade. Dealings were on a larger scale than for months past, and before the first half of the board of trade session was ended values had risen more than five cents a bushel. December delivery touching $1.06 3/4, as against $1.01 1/2 to $1.01 3/4 at the close on Saturday.

As on previous days since the situation at the Dardanelles began to assume a serious aspect, the wheat market here gave but little indication of any tendency toward a sharp rise in prices. Suddenly, however, buying orders began to flood in and the market commenced to soar.

War news from Asia Minor sent wheat for December delivery up six cents a bushel at the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce today. Other grain futures also showed a strong advance.

December wheat opened at $1.03 1/2, or a shade over the close on Saturday. Prices were stronger at the outset and were soon soaring, December wheat touching $1.08 1/4, as the top quotation. May wheat showed a gain of 3/4c over the opening by rising to $1.11 1/2.

S. D. GOVERNOR URGES BONUS

(By the Associated Press)
Pierre, S. D., Sept. 18.—Urging President to approve the adjusted compensation bill, Governor McMaster today sent a telegram to the President: "Hon. Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.

"On behalf of the ex-service men, not only of the State of South Dakota, but of the entire country, I bespeak your early consideration and approval of the adjusted compensation bill."

"Our debt of gratitude to the service men is immeasurable and can never be paid. But to this extent our appreciation can be tangibly evidenced."

"We assure you of our hearty co-operation at all times."

W. H. McMaster, Governor of South Dakota.

SEEK EMERGENCY POTATO RATES

St. Paul, Sept. 18.—An effort to obtain an emergency rate on shipment of potatoes from Minnesota to central market points will be made at a meeting of the various railroad efforts here called by N. J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture. The meeting will probably be held here late today.

Mr. Holmberg was advised that the Interstate Commerce Commission has permitted an emergency decrease in rate on potatoes from intermediate states, including Utah, Idaho and Wyoming, to central market points. This rate works to a disadvantage to Minnesota shippers and in the case of the Kansas City market means a competition from 14 to 18 cents a hundred weight, Mr. Holmberg said.

Unless conditions in the Red River Valley are improved, farmers will not dig their potato crop because of the lack of market, Mr. Holmberg said. With the prevailing emergency rates in the inter-mountain states and its advantage over Minnesota, the central markets will be flooded with foreign potatoes and Minnesota will be unable to ship at the prevailing competitive price, he asserted.

GERMAN POTATOES CHEAP IN ENGLAND

(By the Associated Press)
London, Sept. 18.—The latest accusation made against Germany by tariff reformers who "for some time have been clamoring for the imposition of higher duties against imports from Germany. Not long ago British farmers were getting from $10 to $18 a ton for their potatoes. Now they find them a drug in the market at prices as low as $2.

"The explanation of this fall," says one authority, "is wholesale dumping by German and Dutch growers. The German government, before and during the war, stimulated the growth of potatoes in order to provide a reserve of food and also for the distillation of alcohol. This surplus has been thrown on the British market, the only one which will admit it without heavy duties, and it has been sold for what it will fetch. As a result the unfortunate British farmer is being reduced to something very near despair, and in some cases is refusing to market his crop."

Open TRAIL OFFICES

(By the Associated Press)
Hillsboro, N. D., Sept. 18.—Organization headquarters for the King of Trails association were opened here today by E. A. Pratt, general manager of Highway in preparation for the organization meeting which will be held tomorrow. Each of the counties affected, Richland, Cass, Traill, Grand Forks, Walsh and Pembina, will be allowed 11 votes on the floor of the convention.

After affecting a state organization, the principal business will be to definitely set the route between Wahpeton and Pembina or a point adjacent that will connect with the K. T. route in Canada to Winnipeg. The proposed route is from Wahpeton to Fargo, Hillsboro, Grand Forks, Grafton and Pembina. The meeting is also to adopt the marking and sign posting system as set by the National K. T. association; direct a method of financing; discuss sign posting of railway crossings and other dangerous points; discuss tourist camps and method of advertising them; discuss road building, maintenance, snow removal and tour-
